SCHOOL FIRE DEAD PLACED AT 90

GRIEF-STRICKEN PARENTS stand among the crowd that watched the Roman Catholic parochial grade school fire in Chicago Monday afternoon. Their children may have been among the 87 who died in the blaze. Three Sisters also lost their lives in the fire, the worst in Chicago since the disastrous Iroquois Theater fire in 1903. (UPI Telephoto)

Investigators Dig For Reasons In Chicago Blaze

CHICAGO (AP) — Grim investigators today shook off the shock of Chicago's worst school fire and strove to find the answer to this question:

"How did it happen and why?" The fire that flashed through Our Lady of the Angels School Monday shortly before closing time cost 90 lives—87 children and three nuns.

More than 85 youngsters remained in hospitals.

It was Chicago's most disastrous blaze since the Iroquois Theater holocaust in 1903 and the third worst school fire in the nation in 100 years.

The flames shot up in the two-story brick building like fire from a blowtorch. Heat and smoke trapped the victims on the upper floor of the north wing of the U-shaped structure.

Twenty-four bodies were found in one room. Most of them were jammed near windows. Firemen, sickened by the spectacle, said a few of the children were still at their desks, apparently paralyzed by fear and panic.

Others leaped from windows.

The little survivors suffered from burns, bones broken in falls and the shock of the horror they beheld.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn considered the possibility of arson. That possibility was raised by the swift spread of the blaze.

"It was the worst thing I have ever seen or ever will see," he said.

Quinn also said the black smoke indicated an oil-type fire.

The fire originated in the northeast corner of the school at 3808 W. Iowa St. on the Northwest Side. Investigators pinpointed the place of origin below the street level.

A 30-gallon can was found in a stairwell in that section of the structure. It was taken to the police crime laboratory for careful examination.

Another possibility was that the fire sprang up in waste paper in the basement near that corner of the building.

Daniel O'Shea, 12, a pupil who carried the waste paper to the basement a few minutes before the fire started was questioned by police seeking to determine the cause of the disaster.

The boy said he left his seventh grade room with a basket of paper about 10 minutes before the fire began. He added that he dumped the paper in a container to be burned later by the janitor.

Sgt. Drew Brown, head of the police arson squad, said the waste paper was dumped in the boiler room about 15 feet from the stairwell where the fire was believed to have started.

Authorities Study Several Theories

But, if the fire started in the paper, how was it kindled?

Nobody came forward with an answer.

One theory was that a cigarette may have been discarded in the refuse.

Sgt. Brown found black smudges on the lower walls of the stairwell that indicated an oil-like substance had burned there.

He stated that no evidence of a touchoff had been found thus far.

Pope John XXIII sent to the Chicago Archdiocese a telegram of profound sorrow over the disaster in the Roman Catholic school.

Just 18 minutes was the difference between life and death for the 1,300 students and blacked-robed teachers in the school. The first box alarm was turned in at 2:42 p.m. The school let out at 3 p.m.

Within minutes the building turned into a wild, screaming inferno. Smoke and heat filled staircases and second-floor corridors so fast that normal exits were impassable.

"We are trapped. We are trapped," nuns screamed from the windows as they huddled with groups of pupils.

"Nothing killed those kids but heat and smoke," Quinn said. "They just couldn't get out into the corridor to go downstairs."

Screams of children trapped on upper floors drifted down to hundreds of horrified spectators and hysterical parents.

Firemen raised ladders and brought down dozens of pupils. Priests, on the scene even before the fire fighters, led out others.

Nuns, with disregard for their own safety, rolled some pupils down staircases. Children ducked to the floor, seeking cool and fresh air, and crawled out. Others groped their way to freedom by grasping hands and beltbuckles of classmates and filing out the smoke-filled structure.

For some there was no rescue, however.

"God, we tried. God, how we tried," sobbed one fireman. "But we couldn't move fast enough. No one could live in that fire."

As the bodies were brought down in the eerie, hazy light, parents pushed against police lines, crying, "Where are our children? Where are our children?"

The dead were placed in a courtyard where only a few hours before the children had been laughing and playing.

The injured were taken to seven nearby West Side hospitals. Twenty-two victims died en route to hospitals or soon after arrival. Sixty-eight bodies were sent directly to the morgue where parents and relatives gathered for the dreaded identification ordeal.

Of the dead 53 were girls and 34 boys. The heroic nuns accounted for the other three.

The U-shaped school at 3808 Iowa St. was built some 40 years ago. It was remodeled about five years ago. Fire officials said the school was checked last October and no violations were found. Exits were adequate, they said, and the ceilings were of wood lath and plaster. There were no false ceil-

Priests Comfort Bereaved Parents In Chicago Morgue

CHICAGO (AP) — The acrid stench of burned bodies and clothing hung heavily over the morgue at the Cook County Hospital today.

Inside, scores of priests and hospital attendants tried to comfort bereaved relatives still trying to identify the bodies of schoolchildren who died in Monday's fire at Our Lady of the Angels Roman Catholic School.

Ninety sheet-covered bodies lay on stretchers in three rooms of the morgue basement. Some had been identified within hours after the fire.

Some fire-blackened bodies contorted in agony may never be identified.

"It was the will of God," was heard in a low whisper from the priest. "Your daughter is an angel in heaven."

U.N. Hits 'Home Stretch' Of Dec. 12 Adjournment

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Assembly today dragged into the home stretch of one of the least eventful sessions in its 13-year history. There appeared little to stop the world body from winding up on schedule Dec. 12.

The 81-nation main Political Committee pressed to conclude debate on the Cyprus issue by midweek. That would leave the Assembly with only three main items to discuss — atomic radiation, Algeria and Hungary.

The Cyprus question appeared headed for a deadlock. The committee neared a vote on half a dozen rival resolutions. None appeared to have enough support to get the two-thirds majority needed for Assembly approval.

A compromise resolution entered Monday night by India and eight other nations called on Britain to continue negotiations to promote self-government for its crown colony. The British said the proposal was not acceptable, virtually dooming prospects for passage.

The radiation issue was expected to be disposed of quickly. Twelve nations represented on the U.N. Scientific Committee on Atomic Radiation have put in a resolution proposing that the agency continue its work. It was expected to be approved without serious opposition.

The Algerian discussion promised to be a heated but one-sided affair.

The French have served notice they will not take part in the debate on grounds the future of the North African territory is a French internal matter. Most of the 28 Asian-African nations and the Soviet bloc are expected to speak fully on the colonial issue, however.

The Hungarian question, which is expected to generate considerable East-West heat, goes directly to the General Assembly.

Peace Talks In Strikes Slated

Court Developments Ease Pressure On Two Airlines

By The Associated Press

Court developments in New York City have eased pressure on two airlines involved in labor disputes. Talks aimed at ending strikes at two other lines continue today.

The strike moratoriums give breathing space to Pan American World Airways and American Airlines and keep their planes in the air. The struck carriers are Eastern Air Lines and Trans World Airlines.

The Transport Workers Union pledged in State Supreme Court Monday not to interfere with Pan American operations, pending the outcome of mediation over union demands. The line had accused the union of curtailing the amount of overtime its members could work.

About 8,000 Pan American employes, including 1,400 at the Air Force's Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile base, are demanding fewer working hours with no pay cuts. The contract expired at midnight.

American Airlines, the nation's largest in passenger miles flown annually, escaped a rupture in operations when Federal Dist. Judge Frederick vanPelt Bryan continued a ban on a strike by 1,500 members of the Air Line Pilots Assn. court argument continues today.

In Kansas City, negotiations in the 11-day-old TWA strike were recessed late Monday night still deadlocked over a seniority issue involving machinist foremen. Talks were scheduled to resume today.

At Miami, Fla., EAL officials and union leaders planned to meet again today. The line was struck last Nov. 24. A total of 5,383 mechanics and 550 members of the Flight Engineers International Assn. are out.

Voting Board Starts Check On City's Registration List

The County Election Board today started the annual year - end check on East Liverpool voter registration lists, preparing to scratch off the names of those who have not taken part in an election in the preceding two years.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, estimated as many as 10 per cent of the 11,478 qualified voters may be eliminated, which would mean a loss of approximately 1,147.

State law requires the board to make the check at the end of each year, eliminating from the registration lists the names of those who have not voted at least once in a primary, general or special election in the last two years.

Postcard notices will be sent about Jan. 1 to those whose names are eliminated, explaining that they must register again in order to have a voice in 1959 elections.

Meanwhile, the board awarded contracts today for ballots and poll books for a special election Dec. 30 in Beaver Local School District on a combination $220,000 bond issue and half-mill levy.

The ballot contract went to the Keystone Printing Co. of St. Clair Ave. on its low bid of $123.75. Other bidders were: Wilson Printing House of Market St., $152, and Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem, $207.50.

The contract for poll books went to the Columbus Blank Book Co. of Columbus on its low bid of $12 a precinct, a total of $192. The Johnson-Watson Co. of Dayton bid $13 a precinct and the Heer Printing Co. of Columbus bid $13.50 a precinct.

O'Hanlon said the board hopes to have absentee ballots available for the special election before Dec. 10. They will be issued until 4 p. m. Dec. 24.

TST Production Near Normal As Strike Ends

Production was near normal today at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. in Chester after approximately 25 clay shop finishers returned to work Monday, ending a walkout that started Nov. 25.

Management said most of its employes are back at work and production is nearing normal. The walkout was stttled with the intervention of officials of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, the firm said.

The stoppage apparently resulted from a dispute over piece-work prices on a new line of ward. Late last week, about half of the plant was idled by the stoppage, according to the firm.

Thanksgiving Holiday Traffic Claimed 454

CHICAGO (AP) — Thanksgiving holiday traffic claimed 454 lives between 6 p. m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday.

The figure, though impressive, was about par for any 102-hour period when figured against 38,500 traffic fatalities in the nation last year.

The Associated Press count showed 626 dead from all types of accidents during the four-day weekend, with 54 of these fire victims.

Minister Hurt As Car Skids Into Another

The Rev. Wilbert T. Wilson of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church suffered minor shoulder injuries Monday at 4:42 p. m. when his auto skidded into a women driver's car on Harvey Ave. in Klondyke, police reported.

Rev. Wilson, 56, of 216 Jackson St., was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the left shoulder and chest after the crash that involved his 1955 sedan and another 1955 sedan operated by Eva Chuldenko, 40, of Industry R. D. 1. Another traffic mishap yesterday also was blamed on a skid.

The woman driver told police she was headed east when she saw the minister's westbound car skidding toward her out of control. When the woman halted, the pastor's car skidded into her auto broadside, she said. There was extensive damage to both cars, police said.

Two cars were damaged in a crash at 9:40 p. m. Monday at Market and E. 4th Sts., also blamed on a skid.

The mishap involved a 1958 convertible driven by Howard H. Parsons, 65, of Youngstown and a 1953 coupe operated by Charles B. Gerace, 60, of Hill Blvd., police said.

Gerace was starting a left turn from 4th St. onto Market when Parsons applied the brakes on his southbound car and skidded into the local man's auto, police said.

A parked auto was damaged in the third mishap at 1:05 p. m. yesterday on Washington St., police said.

Elbert G. Kelly, 31, of Huntington, the truck driver, told police he left the truck cab and went to the rear when the vehicle drifted forward and hit the auto.

School Fire Third Worst In 100 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — The fire that struck Our Lady of Angels School Monday was the third worst school fire in the nation in the last 100 years and the worst in Chicago in 55 years.

The greatest school disaster occurred March 18, 1937, when 294 died in a school explosion and fire in New London, Tex.

The other major school fire claimed 176 lives in the Collinwood School in Cleveland March 4, 1908.

There have been 26 fires in this country in which as many as 50 persons died. Two were school fires. Only eight fires with such a loss of life have occurred in the last 20 years, none of them in schools.

Worst of these recent fires was the Cocoanut Grove Night Club blaze in Boston Nov. 28, 1942, in which 498 died.

Other fires with major losses of life in the last two decades are:

Dec. 7, 1946 — 119 dead in Winecoff Hotel fire, Atlanta, Ga.

Oct. 20, 1944 — 135 killed in Cleveland liquid gas explosion and fire.

Thawing Of Snow And Ice Starts As Mercury Rises

Thawing of the snow and ice remaining from the Thanksgiving week storm was expected to accelerate today with a warmup in temperatures for the second day.

The mercury climbed to above freezing Monday afternoon for the first time in three days, reaching 35 at 2 p. m., and the Ohio weatherman said today's high range will be 32 to 36. Saturday's high was 29 and Sunday's 22. Tonight's low will be 25 to 30.

Snow rutted streets and highways made for treacherous driving conditions while pedestrians had their woes trying to stay on their feet on icy walks. Long icicles on building parapets posed an overhead threat.

The Ohio weatherman's forecast for the next 24 hours made no mention of snow but there will be a colder trend Wednesday afternoon.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Washington said in a long-range forecast the weather will be colder than normal for the next 30 days, confirming that winter has arrived ahead of schedule for an extended stay. Winter is due officially Dec. 21.

Ohio Valley residents will find little consolation in the fact that temperatures will be above normal — in California and Florida—the remainder of this month.

Meanwhile, classes resumed today at all Beaver Local schools following a one-day vacation Monday due to damage to heating systems at the high school and new elementary school.

A power failure Saturday night affected automatic controls, and pipes in the heating systems at both buildings froze and broke, school authorities reported.

Other schools in the Beaver Local District, all for first to fourth grades, were also closed to prevent transportation complications.

A sufficient water supply was available today at the high school where the well was deepened some 10 feet over the weekend to eliminate a shortage. However, George VanHorne, executive head, said a new well will be drilled during the Christmas holiday, and the present well will be used as an auxiliary.

A lowering of the water level has been noticed in the present well in the past few months.

Parking Ban Decreed In City Snow Removal

Parking will be banned after midnight tonight on E. and W. 5th and 6th Sts. between Walnut and Jackson Sts. to clear the way for street department snow removal crews, Police Chief Americo Radeschi announced.

Snow was cleared from the parking area along a short stretch of E. 5th St. this morning until the work began to interfere with traffic. A heavy grader moved the snow from the curb into the center of the street, then a highlift and a shovel crew loaded the piles into trucks to be hauled away.

One Of Least Eventful Sessions

U.N. Hits 'Home Stretch' Of Dec. 12 Adjournment

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Assembly today dragged into the home stretch of one of the least eventful sessions in its 13-year history. There appeared little to stop the world body from winding up on schedule Dec. 12.

The 81-nation main Political Committee pressed to conclude debate on the Cyprus issue by midweek. That would leave the Assembly with only three main items to discuss — atomic radiation, Algeria and Hungary.

The Cyprus question appeared headed for a deadlock. The committee neared a vote on half a dozen rival resolutions. None appeared to have enough support to get the two-thirds majority needed for Assembly approval.

A compromise resolution entered Monday night by India and eight other nations called on Britain to continue negotiations to promote self-government for its crown colony. The British said the proposal was not acceptable, virtually dooming prospects for passage.

The radiation issue was expected to be disposed of quickly. Twelve nations represented on the U.N. Scientific Committee on Atomic Radiation have put in a resolution proposing that the agency continue its work. It was expected to be approved without serious opposition.

The Algerian discussion promised to be a heated but one-sided affair.

The French have served notice they will not take part in the debate on grounds the future of the North African territory is a French internal matter. Most of the 28 Asian-African nations and the Soviet bloc are expected to speak fully on the colonial issue, however.

The Hungarian question, which is expected to generate considerable East-West heat, goes directly to the General Assembly.

School Fire Third Worst In 100 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — The fire that struck Our Lady of Angels School Monday was the third worst school fire in the nation in the last 100 years and the worst in Chicago in 55 years.

The greatest school disaster occurred March 18, 1937, when 294 died in a school explosion and fire in New London, Tex.

The other major school fire claimed 176 lives in the Collinwood School in Cleveland March 4, 1908.

There have been 26 fires in this country in which as many as 50 persons died. Two were school fires. Only eight fires with such a loss of life have occurred in the last 20 years, none of them in schools.

Worst of these recent fires was the Cocoanut Grove Night Club blaze in Boston Nov. 28, 1942, in which 498 died.

Other fires with major losses of life in the last two decades are:

Dec. 7, 1946 — 119 dead in Winecoff Hotel fire, Atlanta, Ga.

Oct. 20, 1944 — 135 killed in Cleveland liquid gas explosion and fire.

Thawing Of Snow And Ice Starts As Mercury Rises

Thawing of the snow and ice remaining from the Thanksgiving week storm was expected to accelerate today with a warmup in temperatures for the second day.

The mercury climbed to above freezing Monday afternoon for the first time in three days, reaching 35 at 2 p. m., and the Ohio weatherman said today's high range will be 32 to 36. Saturday's high was 29 and Sunday's 22. Tonight's low will be 25 to 30.

Snow rutted streets and highways made for treacherous driving conditions while pedestrians had their woes trying to stay on their feet on icy walks. Long icicles on building parapets posed an overhead threat.

The Ohio weatherman's forecast for the next 24 hours made no mention of snow but there will be a colder trend Wednesday afternoon.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Washington said in a long-range forecast the weather will be colder than normal for the next 30 days, confirming that winter has arrived ahead of schedule for an extended stay. Winter is due officially Dec. 21.

Ohio Valley residents will find little consolation in the fact that temperatures will be above normal — in California and Florida— the remainder of this month.

Meanwhile, classes resumed today at all Beaver Local schools following a one-day vacation Monday due to damage to heating systems at the high school and new elementary school.

A power failure Saturday night affected automatic controls, and pipes in the heating systems at both buildings froze and broke, school authorities reported.

Other schools in the Beaver Local District, all for first to fourth grades, were also closed to prevent transportation complications.

A sufficient water supply was available today at the high school where the well was deepened some 10 feet over the weekend to eliminate a shortage. However, George VanHorne, executive head, said a new well will be drilled during the Christmas holiday, and the present well will be used as an auxiliary.

A lowering of the water level has been noticed in the present well in the past few months.

Parking Ban Decreed In City Snow Removal

Parking will be banned after midnight tonight on E. and W. 5th and 6th Sts. between Walnut and Jackson Sts. to clear the way for street department snow removal crews, Police Chief Americo Radeschi announced.

Snow was cleared from the parking area along a short stretch of E. 5th St. this morning until the work began to interfere with traffic. A heavy grader moved the snow from the curb into the center of the street, then a highlift and a shovel crew loaded the piles into trucks to be hauled away.

Iowa Doctor Chosen Outstanding Physician

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — An Iowa doctor who delivered 2,000 babies in their own homes was chosen today as the nation's outstanding family physician of the year.

Dr. Lonnie A. Coffin, 68, Farmington, was awarded the honor by the House of Delegates of the American Medical Assn.

The award is given each year to the doctor who typifies the thousands of general practitioners throughout the country who have dedicated their lives to the practice of medicine and who have given exceptional service to their communities.

Dr. Coffin terms himself "an ordinary country doctor."

He was instrumental in getting and developing Indian Lake, a 200-acre park which has made boating, fishing and picnicking available to the surrounding area.

The doctor bought basketball tournament tickets for high school students who couldn't pay their own way.

He also bought graduation clothes for students who couldn't afford them.

Sweet Dough Is Basis Of Breakfast Treats

Too often, the lively pace of modern living allows little time to sit down and enjoy a leisurely breakfast.

In some cases, this important meal is skipped entirely or is too skimpy to give adequate nourishment.

Despite the many activities crowding our busy schedule, it is possible today to prepare an appetizing morning meal, if you plan ahead the dishes that you'll serve.

For example, here is an easy recipe for a sweet basic dough which can be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated until needed.

With this prepared dough, you can make several varieties of sweet treats by using your favorite fruit or nut filling that will turn any ordinary breakfast into an inviting and pleasurable meal.

Basic Sweet Dough

2 cups milk, scalded
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
3 eggs, well beaten
2 envelopes dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
6 cups sifted flour

Pour scalded milk into large bowl. Stir in sugar, salt and butter. Let stand until lukewarm. Blend in eggs. Sprinkle yeast on lukewarm water and stir until yeast is dissolved. Add to milk mixture. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Cover and set in warm place until doubled in bulk.

Turn out on floured board and knead dough until smooth and not sticky. Place in greased bowl and cover. Store in refrigerator until needed.

2 Of 3 Nuns Had Celebrated Their Silver Jubilees

CHICAGO (AP) — Two of the three nuns who perished in the Our Lady of the Angels School fire had celebrated their silver jubilees as members of their religious society.

Sister Mary St. Canice, the former May Lyng of Chicago, entered the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary after her graduation from Immaculata High School in 1932. She observed her 25th anniversary in September 1957.

She had been Sister Superior of St. Mary's School in De Kalb, Ill., until two years ago. Before that she had filled several teaching assignments throughout California.

Sister Mary Seraphica, the former Virginia Kelley of Chicago, celebrated her jubilee only two months ago. She joined the order from Immaculata High School in 1933 and spent her entire teaching career in Chicago. A brother lives in Peoria, Ill.

Sister Mary Clara Therese entered the order from San Francisco about a decade ago and took her final vows as a sister two years ago. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Champagne. Officials of the order gave their address as both Cut Off, La., and San Francisco.

Merchants Report Brisk Start In City's Yule Gift Purchasing

Despite the heaviest snowstorm in eight years and forced cancelation of a holiday parade Saturday, early gift - buying has started with a rush, members of the East Liverpool Merchants Association commented at their monthly meeting today.

The businessmen commented that they were "well pleased" by the reception given their new Christmas stocks by shoppers both Saturday and Monday, when the stores were open until 8:30 p.m. Buying was good, despite traffic and parking difficulties rising out of the heavy snow that fell Friday, they said.

The association confirmed that no locally - arranged holiday parade will be planned as a substitute for the procession of giant balloon figures and high school bands that was to have ushered in the holiday season Saturday afternoon.

The parade was canceled because the equipment of Jean Gros, Inc., of Pittsburgh was tied up on the eastern end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike while en route from Harrisburg to East Liverpool.

The board enacted a vote of thanks to all the organizations and individuals that helped plan and arrange the parade and also to those who aided in spreading the notice of the last - minute forced cancelation.

In connection with the holiday parade, the merchants agreed not to arrange for a substitute because of the uncertainty of December weather, plus the fact a hastily-arranged procession would not be up to the standard of the parade that was called off.

Reports were heard from the Buy American, Christmas activities and budget committees. William Kozel, president, was authorized to appoint a committee to make a study of reorganization of the association.

There also was discussion of the termination of bus service between East Liverpool and Midland and what steps could be taken to restore it. The Holtz Transportation Co. halted its Midland runs over the weekend after learning an insurance company from which it had obtained coverage was not licensed to sell policies for Pennsylvania risks.

Despite the heaviest snowstorm in eight years and forced cancelation of a holiday parade Saturday, early gift - buying has started with a rush, members of the East Liverpool Merchants Association commented at their monthly meeting today.

The businessmen commented that they were "well pleased" by the reception given their new Christmas stocks by shoppers both Saturday and Monday, when the stores were open until 8:30 p.m. Buying was good, despite traffic and parking difficulties rising out of the heavy snow that fell Friday, they said.

The association confirmed that no locally - arranged holiday parade will be planned as a substitute for the procession of giant balloon figures and high school bands that was to have ushered in the holiday season Saturday afternoon.

The parade was canceled because the equipment of Jean Gros, Inc., of Pittsburgh was tied up on the eastern end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike while en route from Harrisburg to East Liverpool.

The board enacted a vote of thanks to all the organizations and individuals that helped plan and arrange the parade and also to those who aided in spreading the notice of the last - minute forced cancelation.

In connection with the holiday parade, the merchants agreed not to arrange for a substitute because of the uncertainty of December weather, plus the fact a hastily-arranged procession would not be up to the standard of the parade that was called off.

Reports were heard from the Buy American, Christmas activities and budget committees. William Kozel, president, was authorized to appoint a committee to make a study of reorganization of the association.

There also was discussion of the termination of bus service between East Liverpool and Midland and what steps could be taken to restore it. The Holtz Transportation Co. halted its Midland runs over the weekend after learning an insurance company from which it had obtained coverage was not licensed to sell policies for Pennsylvania risks.

Atlas Wings Its Way To Success

The first completely successful test firing of an Atlas missile over a 6,325-mile range to a predetermined target area in the South Pacific can be compared with the first flight of the Wright brothers' airplane.

The comparison is not meant to detract from the importance of the Atlas missile, or the principle of the intercontinental - range missile. It is meant only to reveal that what is regarded as a triumph in missile development is as modest a step in the ultimate development of missiles as it was when the Wright brothers made their first plane rise from the ground.

This is the beginning, nothing more, and will be so regarded before 25 more years have passed. Guided missiles, whatever they are going to mean to the security of this country and other countries — whatever they are going to mean to the insecurity of all countries, if they follow the development of military aircraft — are now in the crude stage of evolution.

But one thing about them is firmly determined even in the crude stage. They are destined to wipe out the time margin that has been the last lingering obstacle to military aggressors.

HURTLING THROUGH space at speeds of better than 2,000 miles an hour, they will be able to reach their targets before their victims know they are under attack. An aggressor nation with 200 missiles to fire simultaneously could wipe out an enemy with one mighty blast-off.

There can be only one deterrent to this temptation — the certainty that if the madman decision were made to do such a thing it would be countered with madman retaliation in kind. Thus, it may turn out that the ultimate weapon — an intercontinental-range missile with a nuclear bomb in its nose — is destined to become the ultimate deterrent to aggression.

The strategy of massive retaliation that began in World War I with the first bombing planes and was continued in World War II with saturation raids of cities now has entered the ultimate phase of its development—the nuclear bomb hurtled thousands of miles through space.

The United States and the Soviet Union both have the means of carrying on this kind of warfare. Both have planes and missiles. If the Societ Union has an edge in missiles, the United States has an edge in planes and in bases for planes and missiles outside its own territory.

THE ASSUMPTION is, therefore, that they have made warfare mutually unthinkable—as between themselves. The hope is that other nations, as they come into possession of the same means of destruction, will make warfare mutually unthinkable.

Whether this is an assumption that can be defended or only the prolongation of a wishful thought about a balance of power that has been disproved time and time again as aggressors were tempted to turn to violence is the unresolved doubt of the second half of the 20th century.

The price of war may still not be regarded as prohibitive by the warmakers. They always have been willing before to pay the price in other people's lives and well-being.

The Phenomenon Of The Nixons

It has been pointed out so often in this country that Richard Nixon and his attractive wife are hard people to dislike at close range that the British should have been prepared for the same discovery.

But whatever it was that the British had been led to expect, the phenomenon of the Nixons apparently took them by surprise when the second couple of the United States visited England for the dedication of the American Memorial Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The British learned what has been palpably true about the vice president and his wife for a long time — that they are a man-and-wife team whose public-life performance is merely an extension of native good sense and sound balance.

Wherever they are required to go by the office Mr. Nixon holds and whatever they are required to do, they do with the simple grace and dignity that is the heritage of millions of Americans born and reared in similar circumstances. The British liked them for it, just as many Americans who have been misled and even embittered by the image of the Nixons painted by their political detractors have liked them when they had an opportunity to get acquainted with the reality behind the political image.

The image, it should be remembered, is not the fabrication of Mr. Nixon's political opponents alone. Members of his own party have daubed a few distortions of their own on the picture. They, too, have tried to make it appear that Dick and Pat Nixon are something that they aren't.

Never before in U.S. history has a vice president been given so much attention. The reason is no secret. Richard Nixon is a logical candidate for president; his political enemies are trying to turn him into an ogre, and his sponsors are trying to turn him into a superman.

Both are wrong. He is a hard-working public official who is making a career of going as far as he can go in his chosen field of politics.

Mrs. Nixon is a loyal wife who is doing everything in her power to help her husband do what he wants to do.

What looks like the phenomenon of the Nixons is really the phenomenon of the country that produced them — an American man and woman of ordinary origin who can represent their country creditably merely by being themselves.

Winterizing People, A Slow Process

Unless it's a fellow who has been driving a car for most of his lifetime heavy-footing the accelerator while a pair of tortured tires scream on a patch of ice or hard-packed snow;

Unless it's a person who should know better shivering like a Korean refugee in a flimsy garment when he has a warm overcoat hanging in the closet at home while the temperature drops below freezing and the wind rises;

Unless it's a householder who thought clement weather would hang on forever and thus finds himself peering at a snowscape through windows still protected by screens;

Unless it's a selection of lawn furniture with five inches of snow piled on it, or children whose mittens have been lost, or a construction job started so late it will be stalled until next spring, or football players sliding on a snow-covered gridiron, or a steaming auto radiator.

The fact is that winter catches millions of us unprepared every time it comes, though it has been blowing in on schedule for thousands of years.

Winterizing people is harder to do than winterizing machinery and dwellings, because people are at best only a little more farsighted than the chickadee and at worst a little less prudent than the red squirrel.

But they do have a saving grace. They learn. After they once get accustomed to winter, they do about as well as could be expected. By that time, however, it's summer again — time to be struck down with overexposure to sunshine and to sprain their sacre-iliacs doing home gardening.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

President Eisenhower's letter to William H. Draper, Jr, setting up a commission to dig into the facts on foreign economic and military aid might have read if plainly put:

Dear Bill: I don't know what you want for Christmas but you are getting something that will have no holly, bright lights or tinsel.

In your sock I am putting this gift-wrapped packaged headache. I want you to find out where we have been, where we are now and where we should go from here in foreign aid spending. I am giving you a team of eight men to help who have the health, determination and willingness to be buried alive with you in higher mathematics and complicated bookkeeping figures.

(You could also use Prof. Einstein, Perry Mason, Charlie Chan and the late Harry Houdini, with the entire Notre Dame line to run interference. Compared to your ordeal the experience of the U.S. submarine crew that spent such a long time under the Arctic ice was a picnic.)

AMONG THE COMMISSION members are Gen. Gruenther, head of the Red Cross. You will need blood plasma in the battle to find out how we stand.

Adm. Radford I have named because he can stand rough seas. Jim Webb, the oil man, will go along to see that there is proper lubrication on the hot trip through our total global aid expenses so far.

Tracy Vorhees and Dillon Anderson will go along as lawyers. You may have to sue some countries to get some of the figures and an explanation of where the dough went.

I would like a report by March, which will be a good trick even if you don't do it. The figures are so terrific that even a casual trip through the digits, commas and decimal points could take much longer but do what you can.

I have not chosen you and the other boys as the first volunteers on a trip to the moon, even though on this job some of the figures will go higher than that and you will need oxygen, helmets, etc.

I have made your group non-partisan, as there is no reason that the Democrats should be spared this tough job. Good luck and cheerio!

Ike.

P.S. I am telling all Washington officials to help you but you will have to make allowances as they may be in a daze, like the rest of us.

Probe Set On Vending Machines

By Victor Riesel

Some of the boys' liquid assets are in such quantities of hot cash they can fill their swimming pools with it, luxuriate in it but can't spend it without those federal tax people dropping around wanting to know from whence it all came. Some of the boys do have the touch of the poet but won't use the pennies - from - heaven line when they can say the dough is nickels and dimes from juke boxes and other vending machines.

Victor Riesel

It is the theory of Senate racket-busting committee counselor Robert Kennedy that the boys with a lot of unexplained cash have gone into the coin machine business just to give them a reasonable front for the handling of millions of dollars daily in small denominations.

There are 3½ million coin machines in the land now jingling up well over $2,023,325,000 a year in a fast growing industry which has many a legit merchant in it.

But next week the McClellan committee will start digging into this expanding business. The probe will run for several weeks, lay over for Christmas and then roll through the early part of January.

THE COMMITTEE believes that some of the top hoods in a score of cities use their vending machine companies to cover the take from big gambling and other racket rings.

All the operator need do is to report a few bucks a day extra on the take of several thousand machines — and no one can say that the nickels and dimes and the dollar bills into which they've been changed did not come from the coin boxes.

While the details still are a committee secret, it is known that the Senate probers plan to show that the boys have set up fake front unions whenever they can't control those with legitimate charters.

These "unions" are used to picket any honest merchant who may inadvertently move into a territory which the mobs have staked out for themselves.

This is no minor industry the McClellan committee will rip open in the big towns. The coin vending machine industry is expected to hit five billion dollars in a few years. This is just the take from sales. There are millions more in the production of these expensive mechanisms.

Last year, some 423,000 of these amusement gadgets and sales gimmicks were shipped by manufacturers. There are 6,100 companies operating the equipment across the land.

Fact is the public really has no full picture of the field. There is a machine, now being tested at Chicago's Midway Airport, which will be so electronically attuned, it will change a dollar bill.

WHEN THESE machines are distributed, they will wipe out many an old fashioned luncheon bar, and even cafeterias now used in in-plant feeding.

There are automatic coin machines which will offer five selections of pastry, a tray with five different types of sandwiches and six brands of hot canned foods.

There are machines with 24 items running a complete luncheon, from soup through dessert to cigarettes and candy.

During 1957, automatic coffee vending machines poured out 35 million dollars worth of hot brew. Compare this with just over a decade ago when there were no such machines.

Oddly enough this probe is worrying the Teamsters Union more than any of the other committee hearings.

It's that old devil automation, which harasses the tough Teamsters' chiefs more perhaps than the touch of human investigations. The Teamsters have been losing jobs and income through the loss of sales commissions because of these machines.

Drivers now must put huge quantities of milk, bread or cake into indoor and street corner vending machines. The men don't sell any more. The machine takes just so much and that's it.

To make up for this loss of jobs and income, the Teamsters have launched an organizing drive in the vending machine field through their National Miscellaneous Trades Division.

They forsee the time when the automatic coin machines could cut deep into their ranks. And if the McClellan - Kennedy probe turns up the usual racket ties in the field, the Teamsters will have difficulty getting started. This one really has them worried.

Khrush Costs Us Money

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

That old Nikita Khrushchev. American taxpayers ought to be good and mad at him. If he'd just act nice, if he'd just quiet down—. But no. He keeps acting up and costing us money.

Here was President Eisenhower saying just about a month ago—and very firmly too—that in his last two years in office he'd fight as hard as he could to keep down federal spending.

That was Nov. 5, the day after the elections. Eisenhower wasn't happy about the election returns. But he said the Democrats the voters chose were spenders, and "that is what I say is going to be the real trouble."

As for himself, he said this: "For the next two years, the Lord spare me, I am going to fight this (spending) as hard as I know how, and if we don't, I just say that, well, in the long run, everybody else that is responsible has got to fight it."

Since this year government spending is running around 80 billion dollars, and the Defense Department is spending just about half the 80 billion, what place seemed more likely for real economy than that department?

And maybe Eisenhower and his advisers thought some cuts could be made there. But then old Premier Khrushchev started cutting up again, talking about getting the Allies out of Berlin.

He sounded so mean about it, and so insistent, that the United States can't at this minute know what it's in for, or how rough things will get, but it does know it can't afford to take chances with defense.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy visited Eisenhower last week in Georgia. McElroy is a dutiful subordinate. He knows Eisenhower wants economy, and apparently McElroy had been looking every which way to save a penny.

But when he got all through talking to Eisenhower, McElroy talked to newsmen and he said, first, it would be pretty rough trying to keep defense spending down to this year's level of nearly 41 billion dollars.

And then, second, he indicated that next year his department might have to increase, not decrease, its spending and wind up shoveling out a billion dollars more than this year.

So where is Eisenhower going to practice the economy he pledged himself to? In foreign aid? Probably not. And no wonder.

The Eisenhower administration itself has tentatively put together a foreign aid package calling for $4,200,000,000 to $4,300,000,000 for the fiscal year starting next July 1. That, too, would be a billion dollars more than the $3,300,000,000 Congress voted this year.

It was the Democrats whom Eisenhower labeled the spenders. But even before those Democrats have a chance to take their seats in the new Congress, the Eisenhower administration is talking of spending more money than last year in the two vital areas of defense and foreign aid.

It looks as if not only McElroy but Eisenhower too is going to have a pretty rough time keeping down expenses, although Eisenhower has dedicated his remaining years in office to economy.

Return To Morality

By David Lawrence

Dulles Deplores Materialism In Diplomacy

Morality is back in the news—the morality of nations and the importance of maintaining moral principles in the conduct of the foreign policy of the United States. Secretary of State Dulles gave morality a headline the other day when he spoke at Cleveland before the National Council of Churches of Christ at a meeting described as a "World Order Study Conference."

David Lawrence

Mr. Dulles is himself a prominent Christian layman whose basic fidelity to moral principles in world affairs has at times brought down on his head the criticism of those intellectuals of today who rationalize expediency as practical. By this is meant, of course, that the end justifies the means.

Mr. Dulles rather wistfully lamented the decline of morals in international society. He said:

"Today when despotism again rides high, our society is closely observed. Many find us lacking.

"In terms of faith, we seem unable to articulate a basic philosophy for our times which carries deep conviction and strong appeal.

"In terms of work, we seem to be treating freedom as an opportunity for moral license and our productive power often seems to be dedicated to frivolities rather than fulfilling vital human needs.

"In some respects, we seem to be as materialistic as the Communists but without their supporting philosophy and efficiency.

"Surely, when we concern our selves with 'change,' we must not ignore the need to change ourselves."

THE WORD "WE," as used here by Secretary Dulles, includes the many political leaders in Western countries and particularly those spokesmen of modernism who want peace at any price and therefore do not wish to articulate or accept any moral philosophy in international relations.

They are willing to make any concession to the Communists—if it will only eliminate the annoying intrusions of armament expense into their otherwise profitable and pleasurable existence.

Even the very meeting which Mr. Dulles addressed found some of the Protestant clergymen ready to take unto their bosoms the murderers in Red China and ready to forget the sins and crimes committed by the Communists in Korea.

How can there be morality in the world if aggressors are to be rewarded—as Vice President Nixon asked a London audience last week—and how can there be security if the aggressor knows that there will be no resistance to his acts as he continues to reach out into smaller countries and one by one conquers them by subversion?

There is no need to accuse Mr. Dulles or the President of surrounding their policies with an atmosphere of high morality or self-righteousness.

THESE TWO dedicated men would in all humbleness be the first to concede their mistakes as they have tried to steer the ship of state through the waters made rough and often impassable by Communist schemes and plots.

But the President and the secretary of state have tried to hold aloft the banner of decency and morality in the relations of states.

The American Republic has not sought a square foot of any other country's territory nor robbed any nation of its sovereignty. Mr. Dulles rightly deplores the philosophy of those who believe in "power politics" and in the counsel of those exponents of a foreign policy shifty in character that would yield to expediency. He said:

"Our collective security efforts would surely collapse if our free world associates felt they were tied to policies which shifted under the dictates of passing considerations as to what was expedient from the standpoint of the United States. They do not always like it when we adhere to principle. But they would be even more unhappy if we had no principles. . . .

"Nothing could be more dangerous than to operate on the theory that if hostile and evil forces do not readily change, it is always we who must change to accommodate them. Communism is stubborn for the wrong; let us be steadfast for the right.

"A capacity to change is indispensable. Equally indispensable is the capacity to hold fast that which is good. So it is that while we seek to adapt our policies to the inevitability of change, we resist aspects of change which counter the enduring principles of moral law."

THOSE PASSAGES are in themselves enduring. For they strike at the root of the attitudes of surrender that are so often obscured behind high-sounding words advocating "disengagement" or "adjustment."

Such are the counsels that have given the Kremlin much encouragement in recent months in their drive to oust from the Department of State the man who has the courage to say:

"Our faith is that each individual has his origin and destiny in God and thus has a spiritual nature and personal dignity. Therefore we must oppose the treatment of the individual as merely an animated bit of matter to be used to promote the organization of the world in accordance with materialistic principles."

Morality among states is not any more difficult to understand than it is among individuals. Simple honesty and trustworthiness and fair treatment are still the basic principles which America seeks to establish in the relations of governments.

This is the Dulles-Eisenhower policy. It is difficult to understand only where there is unwillingness to accept its stern morality.

Letter To The Editor

I am writing in regard to the letter by Mrs. Albert Weltner of Georgetown, Pa.

I also am not a resident of East Liverpool, but until five years ago I was. I can't say that I disliked East Liverpool, for I was born and raised there. But I am very glad I made the move to East Palestine. Since Lawrence was elected mayor, East Liverpool, in my opinion, is slowly losing business, out-of-town trade and many of its residents.

I myself do some shopping in East Liverpool, but there is not much joy to it any more, with a Meter Maid breathing down your neck or standing on your car bumper every time you leave it. My husband parked his car and went into the store to get change for the meter and when he came back to the car a Meter Maid was parked on his bumper waiting to give him a ticket.

They hardly wait until you get out of your car, let alone back in it. Mr. Lawrence, you are driving business right out of East Liverpool with your Meter Maids and your Youngstown safety director.

I think there are men right in Liverpool who could do just as well. You say shop at home. Why didn't you do the same when you hired a safety director?

Now you say the school guards have to go for lack of funds? I say get rid of the Meter Maids or make them school guards. It may be hard for them to get used to protecting children when they are so used to driving people crazy trying to walk or drive without bumping into one of them. I hope that soon they will quit blaming all the misfortunes on the folks who voted the city tax out.

If they had been given a fair chance to vote in the first place instead of it being forced upon them, it might have been a good thing. But it's still a free country and most people don't like to be pushed around and ordered to do things against their will. I think your city officials had better get wise and put the blame where it belongs.

MRS. DOROTHY HOLTZMAN
East Palestine, Ohio

(Editor's Note—For the record, the Meter Maids were established by a previous city administration, not by Mayor Lawrence.)

Thus, it may turn out that the ultimate weapon — an intercontinental-range missile with a nuclear bomb in its nose — is destined to become the ultimate deterrent to aggression.

The strategy of massive retaliation that began in World War I with the first bombing planes and was continued in World War II with saturation raids of cities now has entered the ultimate phase of its development—the nuclear bomb hurtled thousands of miles through space.

The United States and the Soviet Union both have the means of carrying on this kind of warfare. Both have planes and missiles. If the Societ Union has an edge in missiles, the United States has an edge in planes and in bases for planes and missiles outside its own territory.

THE ASSUMPTION is, therefore, that they have made warfare mutually unthinkable—as between themselves. The hope is that other nations, as they come into possession of the same means of destruction, will make warfare mutually unthinkable.

Whether this is an assumption that can be defended or only the prolongation of a wishful thought about a balance of power that has been disproved time and time again as aggressors were tempted to turn to violence is the unresolved doubt of the second half of the 20th century.

The price of war may still not be regarded as prohibitive by the warmakers. They always have been willing before to pay the price in other people's lives and well-being.

The Phenomenon Of The Nixons

It has been pointed out so often in this country that Richard Nixon and his attractive wife are hard people to dislike at close range that the British should have been prepared for the same discovery.

But whatever it was that the British had been led to expect, the phenomenon of the Nixons apparently took them by surprise when the second couple of the United States visited England for the dedication of the American Memorial Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The British learned what has been palpably true about the vice president and his wife for a long time — that they are a man-and-wife team whose public-life performance is merely an extension of native good sense and sound balance.

Wherever they are required to go by the office Mr. Nixon holds and whatever they are required to do, they do with the simple grace and dignity that is the heritage of millions of Americans born and reared in similar circumstances. The British liked them for it, just as many Americans who have been misled and even embittered by the image of the Nixons painted by their political detractors have liked them when they had an opportunity to get acquainted with the reality behind the political image.

The image, it should be remembered, is not the fabrication of Mr. Nixon's political opponents alone. Members of his own party have daubed a few distortions of their own on the picture. They, too, have tried to make it appear that Dick and Pat Nixon are something that they aren't.

Never before in U.S. history has a vice president been given so much attention. The reason is no secret. Richard Nixon is a logical candidate for president; his political enemies are trying to turn him into an ogre, and his sponsors are trying to turn him into a superman.

Both are wrong. He is a hard-working public official who is making a career of going as far as he can go in his chosen field of politics.

Mrs. Nixon is a loyal wife who is doing everything in her power to help her husband do what he wants to do.

What looks like the phenomenon of the Nixons is really the phenomenon of the country that produced them — an American man and woman of ordinary origin who can represent their country creditably merely by being themselves.

Winterizing People, A Slow Process

Unless it's a fellow who has been driving a car for most of his lifetime heavy-footing the accelerator while a pair of tortured tires scream on a patch of ice or hard-packed snow;

Unless it's a person who should know better shivering like a Korean refugee in a flimsy garment when he has a warm overcoat hanging in the closet at home while the temperature drops below freezing and the wind rises;

Unless it's a householder who thought clement weather would hang on forever and thus finds himself peering at a snowscape through windows still protected by screens;

Unless it's a selection of lawn furniture with five inches of snow piled on it, or children whose mittens have been lost, or a construction job started so late it will be stalled until next spring, or football players sliding on a snow-covered gridiron, or a steaming auto radiator.

The fact is that winter catches millions of us unprepared every time it comes, though it has been blowing in on schedule for thousands of years.

Winterizing people is harder to do than winterizing machinery and dwellings, because people are at best only a little more farsighted than the chickadee and at worst a little less prudent than the red squirrel.

But they do have a saving grace. They learn. After they once get accustomed to winter, they do about as well as could be expected. By that time, however, it's summer again — time to be struck down with overexposure to sunshine and to sprain their sacre-iliacs doing home gardening.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

President Eisenhower's letter to William H. Draper, Jr, setting up a commission to dig into the facts on foreign economic and military aid might have read if plainly put:

Dear Bill: I don't know what you want for Christmas but you are getting something that will have no holly, bright lights or tinsel.

In your sock I am putting this gift-wrapped packaged headache. I want you to find out where we have been, where we are now and where we should go from here in foreign aid spending. I am giving you a team of eight men to help who have the health, determination and willingness to be buried alive with you in higher mathematics and complicated bookkeeping figures.

(You could also use Prof. Einstein, Perry Mason, Charlie Chan and the late Harry Houdini, with the entire Notre Dame line to run interference. Compared to your ordeal the experience of the U.S. submarine crew that spent such a long time under the Arctic ice was a picnic.)

AMONG THE COMMISSION members are Gen. Gruenther, head of the Red Cross. You will need blood plasma in the battle to find out how we stand.

Adm. Radford I have named because he can stand rough seas. Jim Webb, the oil man, will go along to see that there is proper lubrication on the hot trip through our total global aid expenses so far.

Tracy Vorhees and Dillon Anderson will go along as lawyers. You may have to sue some countries to get some of the figures and an explanation of where the dough went.

I would like a report by March, which will be a good trick even if you don't do it. The figures are so terrific that even a casual trip through the digits, commas and decimal points could take much longer but do what you can.

I have not chosen you and the other boys as the first volunteers on a trip to the moon, even though on this job some of the figures will go higher than that and you will need oxygen, helmets, etc.

I have made your group non-partisan, as there is no reason that the Democrats should be spared this tough job. Good luck and cheerio!

Ike.

P.S. I am telling all Washington officials to help you but you will have to make allowances as they may be in a daze, like the rest of us.

Probe Set On Vending Machines

By Victor Riesel

Some of the boys' liquid assets are in such quantities of hot cash they can fill their swimming pools with it, luxuriate in it but can't spend it without those federal tax people dropping around wanting to know from whence it all came. Some of the boys do have the touch of the poet but won't use the pennies - from - heaven line when they can say the dough is nickels and dimes from juke boxes and other vending machines.

Victor Riesel

It is the theory of Senate racket-busting committee counselor Robert Kennedy that the boys with a lot of unexplained cash have gone into the coin machine business just to give them a reasonable front for the handling of millions of dollars daily in small denominations.

There are 3½ million coin machines in the land now jingling up well over $2,023,325,000 a year in a fast growing industry which has many a legit merchant in it.

But next week the McClellan committee will start digging into this expanding business. The probe will run for several weeks, lay over for Christmas and then roll through the early part of January.

THE COMMITTEE believes that some of the top hoods in a score of cities use their vending machine companies to cover the take from big gambling and other racket rings.

All the operator need do is to report a few bucks a day extra on the take of several thousand machines — and no one can say that the nickels and dimes and the dollar bills into which they've been changed did not come from the coin boxes.

While the details still are a committee secret, it is known that the Senate probers plan to show that the boys have set up fake front unions whenever they can't control those with legitimate charters.

These "unions" are used to picket any honest merchant who may inadvertently move into a territory which the mobs have staked out for themselves.

This is no minor industry the McClellan committee will rip open in the big towns. The coin vending machine industry is expected to hit five billion dollars in a few years. This is just the take from sales. There are millions more in the production of these expensive mechanisms.

Last year, some 423,000 of these amusement gadgets and sales gimmicks were shipped by manufacturers. There are 6,100 companies operating the equipment across the land.

Fact is the public really has no full picture of the field. There is a machine, now being tested at Chicago's Midway Airport, which will be so electronically attuned, it will change a dollar bill.

WHEN THESE machines are distributed, they will wipe out many an old fashioned luncheon bar, and even cafeterias now used in in-plant feeding.

There are automatic coin machines which will offer five selections of pastry, a tray with five different types of sandwiches and six brands of hot canned foods.

There are machines with 24 items running a complete luncheon, from soup through dessert to cigarettes and candy.

During 1957, automatic coffee vending machines poured out 35 million dollars worth of hot brew. Compare this with just over a decade ago when there were no such machines.

Oddly enough this probe is worrying the Teamsters Union more than any of the other committee hearings.

It's that old devil automation, which harasses the tough Teamsters' chiefs more perhaps than the touch of human investigations. The Teamsters have been losing jobs and income through the loss of sales commissions because of these machines.

Drivers now must put huge quantities of milk, bread or cake into indoor and street corner vending machines. The men don't sell any more. The machine takes just so much and that's it.

To make up for this loss of jobs and income, the Teamsters have launched an organizing drive in the vending machine field through their National Miscellaneous Trades Division.

They forsee the time when the automatic coin machines could cut deep into their ranks. And if the McClellan - Kennedy probe turns up the usual racket ties in the field, the Teamsters will have difficulty getting started. This one really has them worried.

Khrush Costs Us Money

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

That old Nikita Khrushchev. American taxpayers ought to be good and mad at him. If he'd just act nice, if he'd just quiet down—. But no. He keeps acting up and costing us money.

Here was President Eisenhower saying just about a month ago—and very firmly too—that in his last two years in office he'd fight as hard as he could to keep down federal spending.

That was Nov. 5, the day after the elections. Eisenhower wasn't happy about the election returns. But he said the Democrats the voters chose were spenders, and "that is what I say is going to be the real trouble."

As for himself, he said this: "For the next two years, the Lord spare me, I am going to fight this (spending) as hard as I know how, and if we don't, I just say that, well, in the long run, everybody else that is responsible has got to fight it."

Since this year government spending is running around 80 billion dollars, and the Defense Department is spending just about half the 80 billion, what place seemed more likely for real economy than that department?

And maybe Eisenhower and his advisers thought some cuts could be made there. But then old Premier Khrushchev started cutting up again, talking about getting the Allies out of Berlin.

He sounded so mean about it, and so insistent, that the United States can't at this minute know what it's in for, or how rough things will get, but it does know it can't afford to take chances with defense.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy visited Eisenhower last week in Georgia. McElroy is a dutiful subordinate. He knows Eisenhower wants economy, and apparently McElroy had been looking every which way to save a penny.

But when he got all through talking to Eisenhower, McElroy talked to newsmen and he said, first, it would be pretty rough trying to keep defense spending down to this year's level of nearly 41 billion dollars.

And then, second, he indicated that next year his department might have to increase, not decrease, its spending and wind up shoveling out a billion dollars more than this year.

So where is Eisenhower going to practice the economy he pledged himself to? In foreign aid? Probably not. And no wonder.

The Eisenhower administration itself has tentatively put together a foreign aid package calling for $4,200,000,000 to $4,300,000,000 for the fiscal year starting next July 1. That, too, would be a billion dollars more than the $3,300,000,000 Congress voted this year.

It was the Democrats whom Eisenhower labeled the spenders. But even before those Democrats have a chance to take their seats in the new Congress, the Eisenhower administration is talking of spending more money than last year in the two vital areas of defense and foreign aid.

It looks as if not only McElroy but Eisenhower too is going to have a pretty rough time keeping down expenses, although Eisenhower has dedicated his remaining years in office to economy.

Return To Morality

By David Lawrence

Dulles Deplores Materialism In Diplomacy

Morality is back in the news—the morality of nations and the importance of maintaining moral principles in the conduct of the foreign policy of the United States. Secretary of State Dulles gave morality a headline the other day when he spoke at Cleveland before the National Council of Churches of Christ at a meeting described as a "World Order Study Conference."

David Lawrence

Mr. Dulles is himself a prominent Christian layman whose basic fidelity to moral principles in world affairs has at times brought down on his head the criticism of those intellectuals of today who rationalize expediency as practical. By this is meant, of course, that the end justifies the means.

Mr. Dulles rather wistfully lamented the decline of morals in international society. He said:

"Today when despotism again rides high, our society is closely observed. Many find us lacking.

"In terms of faith, we seem unable to articulate a basic philosophy for our times which carries deep conviction and strong appeal.

"In terms of work, we seem to be treating freedom as an opportunity for moral license and our productive power often seems to be dedicated to frivolities rather than fulfilling vital human needs.

"In some respects, we seem to be as materialistic as the Communists but without their supporting philosophy and efficiency.

"Surely, when we concern our selves with 'change,' we must not ignore the need to change ourselves."

THE WORD "WE," as used here by Secretary Dulles, includes the many political leaders in Western countries and particularly those spokesmen of modernism who want peace at any price and therefore do not wish to articulate or accept any moral philosophy in international relations.

They are willing to make any concession to the Communists—if it will only eliminate the annoying intrusions of armament expense into their otherwise profitable and pleasurable existence.

Even the very meeting which Mr. Dulles addressed found some of the Protestant clergymen ready to take unto their bosoms the murderers in Red China and ready to forget the sins and crimes committed by the Communists in Korea.

How can there be morality in the world if aggressors are to be rewarded—as Vice President Nixon asked a London audience last week—and how can there be security if the aggressor knows that there will be no resistance to his acts as he continues to reach out into smaller countries and one by one conquers them by subversion?

There is no need to accuse Mr. Dulles or the President of surrounding their policies with an atmosphere of high morality or self-righteousness.

THESE TWO dedicated men would in all humbleness be the first to concede their mistakes as they have tried to steer the ship of state through the waters made rough and often impassable by Communist schemes and plots.

But the President and the secretary of state have tried to hold aloft the banner of decency and morality in the relations of states.

The American Republic has not sought a square foot of any other country's territory nor robbed any nation of its sovereignty. Mr. Dulles rightly deplores the philosophy of those who believe in "power politics" and in the counsel of those exponents of a foreign policy shifty in character that would yield to expediency. He said:

"Our collective security efforts would surely collapse if our free world associates felt they were tied to policies which shifted under the dictates of passing considerations as to what was expedient from the standpoint of the United States. They do not always like it when we adhere to principle. But they would be even more unhappy if we had no principles. . . .

"Nothing could be more dangerous than to operate on the theory that if hostile and evil forces do not readily change, it is always we who must change to accommodate them. Communism is stubborn for the wrong; let us be steadfast for the right.

"A capacity to change is indispensable. Equally indispensable is the capacity to hold fast that which is good. So it is that while we seek to adapt our policies to the inevitability of change, we resist aspects of change which counter the enduring principles of moral law."

THOSE PASSAGES are in themselves enduring. For they strike at the root of the attitudes of surrender that are so often obscured behind high-sounding words advocating "disengagement" or "adjustment."

Such are the counsels that have given the Kremlin much encouragement in recent months in their drive to oust from the Department of State the man who has the courage to say:

"Our faith is that each individual has his origin and destiny in God and thus has a spiritual nature and personal dignity. Therefore we must oppose the treatment of the individual as merely an animated bit of matter to be used to promote the organization of the world in accordance with materialistic principles."

Morality among states is not any more difficult to understand than it is among individuals. Simple honesty and trustworthiness and fair treatment are still the basic principles which America seeks to establish in the relations of governments.

This is the Dulles-Eisenhower policy. It is difficult to understand only where there is unwillingness to accept its stern morality.

Letter To The Editor

I am writing in regard to the letter by Mrs. Albert Weltner of Georgetown, Pa.

I also am not a resident of East Liverpool, but until five years ago I was. I can't say that I disliked East Liverpool, for I was born and raised there. But I am very glad I made the move to East Palestine. Since Lawrence was elected mayor, East Liverpool, in my opinion, is slowly losing business, out-of-town trade and many of its residents.

I myself do some shopping in East Liverpool, but there is not much joy to it any more, with a Meter Maid breathing down your neck or standing on your car bumper every time you leave it. My husband parked his car and went into the store to get change for the meter and when he came back to the car a Meter Maid was parked on his bumper waiting to give him a ticket.

They hardly wait until you get out of your car, let alone back in it. Mr. Lawrence, you are driving business right out of East Liverpool with your Meter Maids and your Youngstown safety director.

I think there are men right in Liverpool who could do just as well. You say shop at home. Why didn't you do the same when you hired a safety director?

Now you say the school guards have to go for lack of funds? I say get rid of the Meter Maids or make them school guards. It may be hard for them to get used to protecting children when they are so used to driving people crazy trying to walk or drive without bumping into one of them. I hope that soon they will quit blaming all the misfortunes on the folks who voted the city tax out.

If they had been given a fair chance to vote in the first place instead of it being forced upon them, it might have been a good thing. But it's still a free country and most people don't like to be pushed around and ordered to do things against their will. I think your city officials had better get wise and put the blame where it belongs.

MRS. DOROTHY HOLTZMAN
East Palestine, Ohio

(Editor's Note—For the record, the Meter Maids were established by a previous city administration, not by Mayor Lawrence.)

ings. The heating plant is fueled by oil.

A single fire escape, with exits from the first and second floors, was in the center of the rear, or east side of the building — the bottom of the U which joined the wings.

As news of the impending disaster spread through the low-income neighborhood, hundreds rushed to the scene. Grief-stricken parents began crashing through police cordons as the dead were removed. Several people fainted in the surging mass of humanity.

Priests walked through the crowd and stood near the doomed building, administering Extreme Unction, last rite of the Catholic Church.

As in most tragedies, there were countless talks of heroism.

A nun, who refused to identify herself, made three trips into the blistering fire, each time leading out six pupils. "I felt untold strength," she told newsmen while being treated for burns at St. Anne's Hospital.

Casimir Janik, 38, a milkman, said an unexplainable impulse made him alter his regular route home. He arrived at the school before firemen. He parked nearby and several times ran into the school, carrying burned children to safety.

"I found one girl, her shoes missing, hanging on to a banister, seemingly in a state of shock," he said. "I yanked her loose, took her to church and placed her on a pew. Twice I carried two girls out, one under each arm."

Linda Barleto, 12, said she was pushed out of a window in a second-floor classroom. "Our backs were burning. Then someone pushed me out the window." She suffered burns and bruises.

Her cousin Andrea Gagliareo, 12, told newsmen, "Some of the boys jumped out the window. When we looked out we saw them lying still on the ground. It was like a miracle when we saw the firemen with their ladders."

A boy who lives across from the school, Deroy Hewlett, 13, gave this graphic description: "Kids were hanging from the windows, jumping or falling in groups of three or four at a time. Smoke and flame poured from the windows. A little girl stood at the window of a ledge, screaming for help."

Early reports that there had been an explosion were discounted by firemen. Commissioner Quinn said the boiler room was intact. Then he said, "This could have been a touch-off. It spread too damn rapidly."

Fire investigators were closely checking the story of Mrs. Barbara Glowacki, who operates a candy store adjacent to the school on the north. She said just before she learned about the fire a man came into her store and asked to use a telephone.

The man, said Mrs. Glowacki, ran out quickly, calling out, "The school is on fire," after she told him she had no public telephone.

Police began a search for the man, described as middle-aged.

With a toll of 90 the fire is the nation's third most disastrous school tragedy in the last century. The toll is exceeded only by the New London, Tex., explosion and fire which killed 294 March 18, 1937, and the Collinwood school fire which claimed 176 lives March 4, 1908 in Cleveland.

In Chicago it ranked as the second greatest fire killer of the century. On Dec. 30, 1903, 602 persons died when flames swept through the downtown Iroquois Theater.

Pope John Expresses Deep Sympathy In Fire

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today sent the Chicago Archdiocese of the Roman Catholic Church a telegram expressing his profound sorrow over the Our Lady of the Angels School fire.

"We express from the heart our deepest sympathy with the parents," the telegram said. "To the families thus sorely stricken we impart our apostolic benediction in token of the fullness of heavenly consolation in their sorrow."

Most Of Fire Victims Were 9-14 Years Old

CHICAGO (AP)—The 87 pupils at Our Lady of the Angels grade school who perished in a fire Monday ranged in age from 9 to 14. Most of the victims were from second-floor classrooms.

The West Side Roman Catholic school had an enrollment of 1,300 in the eight grades. The eighth-grade class rooms were on the burned-out second floor and many pupils in the 12-13 age group were listed among the dead. Some lower-grade class rooms also were on the second floor but most were on the first, which was not badly damaged.

Fire Victim Had Cold, Was Home In Morning

CHICAGO (AP) — Margaret Chambers was forced to stay home from her fourth-grade classes at Our Lady of the Angels Catholic grade school Monday morning because she had a cold.

At noon, the 9-year-old pupil told her mother, Rose Chambers, she wanted to go to school in the afternoon. Reluctantly, her mother granted permission.

Margaret was one of the 87 pupils who perished in a fire which swept the school.

$50,000 Damage Set In Tragic School Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn, who directed firefighting and rescue operations at the tragic fire in our Lady of the Angels Grade School Monday, estimated damage to the two-story brick building at $50,000.

"What does that mean in the face of this tragedy?" Quinn asked.

Expansion Set In Basketball

Stanton Board Airs Junior High Playing

Preliminary plans to initiate a junior high school basketball program were aired when the Stanton Local Board of Education met Monday night in Irondale High School.

The board also employed a first grade teacher and authorized use of the school gymnasium on future Saturday nights for movies of the Boy Scouts.

Appointed to lead the junior high cage program was Robert McCullough, industrial arts teacher. A full schedule with district teams is being arranged and is slated to get under way this year, officials said.

Eligible to participate in the junior high program will be seventh, eighth and ninth graders who are not candidates for the reserve team.

The board employed Mrs. Marjorie Richards of Toronto as first grade teacher at the Irondale elementary school to replace Mrs. Clemmie Burris. Mrs. Burris had recently retired but agreed to teach until a replacement could be named.

Use of the gymnasium was granted to Irondale Boy Scouts who will screen a movie each Saturday night to obtain funds to send boys to summer camp. Dr. William Banfield, president, presided.

Faces 1-20 Years

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — An elderly Ashtabula County dairy farmer faces one to 20 years in prison for slaying his son during an argument last May 3. August Jercic, 78, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced Monday by a three-judge panel in Common Pleas Court. He was charged with the shooting of his son, Adam, 35. The case was heard by Judge Hugh Hewitt of Ashtabula County and Trumbull County Judges G. H. Birrell and William H. McLain.

Priests

lier his daughter was not reported in any of the half-dozen hospitals to which many of the chlidren had been taken. The couple came to the morgue, but had not looked at any of the unidentified children. They were praying she still might have only been injured, perhaps still in a hospital through some mixup in names.

Hovering among the parishioners was Father Joseph Ognibene. This 32-year-old priest, a native Chicagoan, came to Our Lady as the parish was known, in 1952. It was his first assignment after ordination.

He was "Father Joe" to everyone.

It was his daily routine to walk about the schoolyard and near the entrances during recess, the noon lunch period and as the children left the building at 3 p.m.

Monday, Father Ognibene met an old friend for lunch. They dallied at the table. Then he noticed it would soon be time for his young parishioners to leave school for home.

"I was hurrying to the school in my car," he said. "I saw smoke coming from the upper windows and drove my car the wrong way up a one-way street. I parked the car and ran into the building.

"Some children were leaving the building in an orderly fire-drill manner. Others were running about, screaming. Then everything was ablaze.

"I tried . . . I wanted to . . . It was the will of God."

When the first bodies began arriving at the morgue, Father Joe was asked to make tentative identification. He knew the greatest force of the fire was concentrated in the section housing Rooms 207, 208, 209, 211 and 212.

Scores of these children he knew by name. All were his friends.

Yet, when he had to identify them by name, or grade he could only whisper: "I'm not sure of this little one. . . I think this one was in 209. . . This boy was . . . I'm not sure."

He pressed a thin, shaking hand to his temple. For a moment, it appeared that he might collapse. An attendant slipped a bottle of salts to the priest's nostrils and he straightened up, backing away from the pungent odor.

Then he walked among the bereaved relatives. He stopped, talked with a weeping father.

"It was the will of God, Stanley. Your daughter is now an angel in heaven."

ings. The heating plant is fueled by oil.

A single fire escape, with exits from the first and second floors, was in the center of the rear, or east side of the building — the bottom of the U which joined the wings.

As news of the impending disaster spread through the low-income neighborhood, hundreds rushed to the scene. Grief-stricken parents began crashing through police cordons as the dead were removed. Several people fainted in the surging mass of humanity.

Priests walked through the crowd and stood near the doomed building, administering Extreme Unction, last rite of the Catholic Church.

As in most tragedies, there were countless talks of heroism.

A nun, who refused to identify herself, made three trips into the blistering fire, each time leading out six pupils. "I felt untold strength," she told newsmen while being treated for burns at St. Anne's Hospital.

Casimir Janik, 38, a milkman, said an unexplainable impulse made him alter his regular route home. He arrived at the school before firemen. He parked nearby and several times ran into the school, carrying burned children to safety.

"I found one girl, her shoes missing, hanging on to a banister, seemingly in a state of shock," he said. "I yanked her loose, took her to church and placed her on a pew. Twice I carried two girls out, one under each arm."

Linda Barleto, 12, said she was pushed out of a window in a second-floor classroom. "Our backs were burning. Then someone pushed me out the window." She suffered burns and bruises.

Her cousin Andrea Gagliareo, 12, told newsmen, "Some of the boys jumped out the window. When we looked out we saw them lying still on the ground. It was like a miracle when we saw the firemen with their ladders."

A boy who lives across from the school, Deroy Hewlett, 13, gave this graphic description: "Kids were hanging from the windows, jumping or falling in groups of three or four at a time. Smoke and flame poured from the windows. A little girl stood at the window of a fedge, screaming for help."

Early reports that there had been an explosion were discounted by firemen. Commissioner Quinn said the boiler room was intact. Then he said, "This could have been a touch-off. It spread too damn rapidly."

Fire investigators were closely checking the story of Mrs. Barbara Glowacki, who operates a candy store adjacent to the school on the north. She said just before she learned about the fire a man came into her store and asked to use a telephone.

The man, said Mrs. Glowacki, ran out quickly, calling out, "The school is on fire," after she told him she had no public telephone.

Police began a search for the man, described as middle-aged.

With a toll of 90 the fire is the nation's third most disastrous school tragedy in the last century. The toll is exceeded only by the New London, Tex., explosion and fire which killed 294 March 18, 1937, and the Collinwood school fire which claimed 176 lives March 4, 1908 in Cleveland.

In Chicago it ranked as the second greatest fire killer of the century. On Dec. 30, 1903, 602 persons died when flames swept through the downtown Iroquois Theater.

Pope John Expresses Deep Sympathy In Fire

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today sent the Chicago Archdiocese of the Roman Catholic Church a telegram expressing his profound sorrow over the Our Lady of the Angels School fire.

"We express from the heart our deepest sympathy with the parents," the telegram said. "To the families thus sorely stricken we impart our apostolic benediction in token of the fullness of heavenly consolation in their sorrow."

Most Of Fire Victims Were 9-14 Years Old

CHICAGO (AP)—The 87 pupils at Our Lady of the Angels grade school who perished in a fire Monday ranged in age from 9 to 14. Most of the victims were from second-floor classrooms.

The West Side Roman Catholic school had an enrollment of 1,300 in the eight grades. The eighth-grade class rooms were on the burned-out second floor and many pupils in the 12-13 age group were listed among the dead. Some lower-grade class rooms also were on the second floor but most were on the first, which was not badly damaged.

Fire Victim Had Cold, Was Home In Morning

CHICAGO (AP) — Margaret Chambers was forced to stay home from her fourth-grade classes at Our Lady of the Angels Catholic grade school Monday morning because she had a cold.

At noon, the 9-year-old pupil told her mother, Rose Chambers, she wanted to go to school in the afternoon. Reluctantly, her mother granted permission.

Margaret was one of the 87 pupils who perished in a fire which swept the school.

Stanton Board Airs Junior High Playing

Preliminary plans to initiate a junior high school basketball program were aired when the Stanton Local Board of Education met Monday night in Irondale High School.

The board also employed a first grade teacher and authorized use of the school gymnasium on future Saturday nights for movies of the Boy Scouts.

Appointed to lead the junior high cage program was Robert McCullough, industrial arts teacher. A full schedule with district teams is being arranged and is slated to get under way this year, officials said.

Eligible to participate in the junior high program will be seventh, eighth and ninth graders who are not candidates for the reserve team.

The board employed Mrs. Marjorie Richards of Toronto as first grade teacher at the Irondale elementary school to replace Mrs. Clemmie Burris. Mrs. Burris had recently retired but agreed to teach until a replacement could be named.

Use of the gymnasium was granted to Irondale Boy Scouts who will screen a movie each Saturday night to obtain funds to send boys to summer camp. Dr. William Banfield, president, presided.

Faces 1-20 Years

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — An elderly Ashtabula County dairy farmer faces one to 20 years in prison for slaying his son during an argument last May 3. August Jercic, 78, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced Monday by a three-judge panel in Common Pleas Court. He was charged with the shooting of his son, Adam, 35. The case was heard by Judge Hugh Hewitt of Ashtabula County and Trumbull County Judges G. H. Birrell and William H. McLain.

lier his daughter was not reported in any of the half-dozen hospitals to which many of the chlidren had been taken. The couple came to the morgue, but had not looked at any of the unidentified children. They were praying she still might have only been injured, perhaps still in a hospital through some mixup in names.

Hovering among the parishioners was Father Joseph Ognibene. This 32-year-old priest, a native Chicagoan, came to Our Lady as the parish was known, in 1952. It was his first assignment after ordination.

He was "Father Joe" to everyone.

It was his daily routine to walk about the schoolyard and near the entrances during recess, the noon lunch period and as the children left the building at 3 p.m.

Monday, Father Ognibene met an old friend for lunch. They dallied at the table. Then he noticed it would soon be time for his young parishioners to leave school for home.

"I was hurrying to the school in my car," he said. "I saw smoke coming from the upper windows and drove my car the wrong way up a one-way street. I parked the car and ran into the building.

"Some children were leaving the building in an orderly fire-drill manner. Others were running about, screaming. Then everything was ablaze.

"I tried . . . I wanted to . . . It was the will of God."

When the first bodies began arriving at the morgue, Father Joe was asked to make tentative identification. He knew the greatest force of the fire was concentrated in the section housing Rooms 207, 208, 209, 211 and 212.

Scores of these children he knew by name. All were his friends.

Yet, when he had to identify them by name, or grade he could only whisper: "I'm not sure of this little one. . . I think this one was in 209. . . This boy was . . . I'm not sure."

He pressed a thin, shaking hand to his temple. For a moment, it appeared that he might collapse. An attendant slipped a bottle of salts to the priest's nostrils and he straightened up, backing away from the pungent odor.

Then he walked among the bereaved relatives. He stopped, talked with a weeping father.

Snow Treads, Chains Might Be Mandatory

Council was asked Monday night to consider enacting legislation that would require all motor vehicles to be equipped with snow tread tires or chains when a snowfall slicks streets.

The suggestion was made by Councilman George E. Willshaw, who recalled the widespread tie-ups in traffic throughout the East Liverpool area as an aftermath of the heavy snow Friday.

Instead of referring his plan to a committee for study, Council adopted Willshaw's suggestion that each member "think about it and be ready to express an opinion" at the next meeting Dec. 15.

"I wonder if there is any way we can make it a 'must' to require snow tires or chains here when there is a comparatively heavy snow," Willshaw said as he opened the discussion. "Most of the tieups resulted because a few drivers didn't have their cars equipped properly. Even though they had chains or snow tires, the majority of the drivers were held up on grades by others with smooth tires or no chains."

Willshaw pointed out that Pittsburgh has a similar ordinance, which it enforces strictly, barring vehicles from the streets after a snowfall of at least 2 inches if they are not equipped with snow tires or chains.

Council considered such legislation here six or eight years ago, but it never got onto the floor.

Asked by Willshaw if such an ordinance would be legal in Ohio, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper commented that he feels it could be enacted because "it would be for the safety of the general public."

Earlier in the session, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti commented that most of the traffic snarl on main streets through the downtown area Friday afternoon could be traced to the fact that big trucks were tied up on Routes 7 and 30 outside the city limits, backing up traffic lanes all the way into East Liverpool.

"In regard to the traffic situation that developed, I don't think the city should take all the blame," the director told Council. "The real reason was that big trucks were tied up two or three miles outside the city limits and backed traffic up all the way into East Liverpool."

Maggianetti added that the street department is continuing with a snow cleanup, although it has been hampered by several equipment breakdowns.

"We will remove the snow from the downtown streets as quickly as possible to make it more convenient for shoppers and motorists," he added.

Bones Of Indian Meals Displayed

Animal bones found in area Indian rock shelters were displayed at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night with Harry M. Cline of Wellsville.

Harry R. Cline introduced James Woodrow of Wellsville, who displayed some 30 pounds of the animal bones found in a rock shelter in the Yellow Creek area.

The bones had been cracked by the aboriginal Indians to obtain marrow for food, Woodrow explained. The rock shelters were used by the Indians for winter and summer homes, he said, and the overhanging ledges protected the bones through the years.

William Patterson screened movies of the Flint Ridge area near Zanesville. Richard S. Thompson, member of the Pennsylvania Archeological Society, said the club had been placed on the society's honor roll for obtaining new members.

The club will meet again Dec. 15 with Harry R. Cline at Wellsville.

Coast Banker Arrested For False Entry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Federal authorities have arrested a suburban banker on a charge of making a false entry of more than $800,000 in the bank's records.

The U.S. attorney's office said more arrests are expected.

"The shortage at the bank may be in excess of one million dollars," the FBI said Monday as it arrested John E. Petersen, 49. He resigned several days ago as vice president and cashier of the Sun Valley National Bank. The bank was sold Saturday.

Just what happened to the money was not explained. It was originally reported that Peterson had been accused of misappropriating the funds. But the FBI said the charge against him was that he "made or caused to be made a false entry in the bank's records."

The falsification consisted of failing to charge to the individual customers' accounts at least $800,000 paid out by the bank for checks drawn on the accounts, said William Alexander, of the Los Angeles FBI office.

All Petersen said was: "I don't have any of this money."

Sun Valley National was sold Saturday to the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Officer, Duck Hold Second Disaster Clinic

WEST ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Police Sgt. Thomas McDonald and a duck named Daisy have held their second annual disaster clinic on Vincent Pond, spontaneous and unrehearsed.

Daisy, as she did last year, spent the night on the pond's frozen surface after it proved too slippery for her to walk back to shore.

McDonald and Andrew Olson, Daisy's youthful owner, finally got the duck back with the aid of weighted ropes and a cornmeal lure.

"Not again," was McDonald's only comment when he saw the land-loving duck's predicament. After Monday's rescue, the sedate Daisy went home with Olson.

Snow Treads, Chains Might Be Mandatory

Council was asked Monday night to consider enacting legislation that would require all motor vehicles to be equipped with snow tread tires or chains when a snowfall slicks streets.

The suggestion was made by Councilman George E. Willshaw, who recalled the widespread tieups in traffic throughout the East Liverpool area as an aftermath of the heavy snow Friday.

Instead of referring his plan to a committee for study, Council adopted Willshaw's suggestion that each member "think about it and be ready to express an opinion" at the next meeting Dec. 15.

"I wonder if there is any way we can make it a 'must' to require snow tires or chains here when there is a comparatively heavy snow," Willshaw said as he opened the discussion. "Most of the tieups resulted because a few drivers didn't have their cars equipped properly. Even though they had chains or snow tires, the majority of the drivers were held up on grades by others with smooth tires or no chains."

Willshaw pointed out that Pittsburgh has a similar ordinance, which it enforces strictly, barring vehicles from the streets after a snowfall of at least 2 inches if they are not equipped with snow tires or chains.

Council considered such legislation here six or eight years ago, but it never got onto the floor.

Asked by Willshaw if such an ordinance would be legal in Ohio, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper commented that he feels it could be enacted because "it would be for the safety of the general public."

Earlier in the session, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti commented that most of the traffic snarl on main streets through the downtown area Friday afternoon could be traced to the fact that big trucks were tied up on Routes 7 and 30 outside the city limits, backing up traffic lanes all the way into East Liverpool.

"In regard to the traffic situation that developed, I don't think the city should take all the blame," the director told Council. "The real reason was that big trucks were tied up two or three miles outside the city limits and backed traffic up all the way into East Liverpool."

Maggianetti added that the street department is continuing with a snow cleanup, although it has been hampered by several equipment breakdowns.

"We will remove the snow from the downtown streets as quickly as possible to make it more convenient for shoppers and motorists," he added.

Bones Of Indian Meals Displayed

Animal bones found in area Indian rock shelters were displayed at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night with Harry M. Cline of Wellsville.

Harry R. Cline introduced James Woodrow of Wellsville, who displayed some 30 pounds of the animal bones found in a rock shelter in the Yellow Creek area.

The bones had been cracked by the aboriginal Indians to obtain marrow for food, Woodrow explained. The rock shelters were used by the Indians for winter and summer homes, he said, and the overhanging ledges protected the bones through the years.

William Patterson screened movies of the Flint Ridge area near Zanesville. Richard S. Thompson, member of the Pennsylvania Archeological Society, said the club had been placed on the society's honor roll for obtaining new members.

The club will meet again Dec. 15 with Harry R. Cline at Wellsville.

Coast Banker Arrested For False Entry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Federal authorities have arrested a suburban banker on a charge of making a false entry of more than $800,000 in the bank's records.

The U.S. attorney's office said more arrests are expected.

"The shortage at the bank may be in excess of one million dollars," the FBI said Monday as it arrested John E. Petersen, 49. He resigned several days ago as vice president and cashier of the Sun Valley National Bank. The bank was sold Saturday.

Just what happened to the money was not explained. It was originally reported that Peterson had been accused of misappropriating the funds. But the FBI said the charge against him was that he "made or caused to be made a false entry in the bank's records."

The falsification consisted of failing to charge to the individual customers' accounts at least $800,000 paid out by the bank for checks drawn on the accounts, said William Alexander, of the Los Angeles FBI office.

All Petersen said was: "I don't have any of this money."

Sun Valley National was sold Saturday to the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Officer, Duck Hold Second Disaster Clinic

WEST ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Police Sgt. Thomas McDonald and a duck named Daisy have held their second annual disaster clinic on Vincent Pond, spontaneous and unrehearsed.

Daisy, as she did last year, spent the night on the pond's frozen surface after it proved too slippery for her to walk back to shore.

McDonald and Andrew Olson, Daisy's youthful owner, finally got the duck back with the aid of weighted ropes and a cornmeal lure.

"Not again," was McDonald's only comment when he saw the land-loving duck's predicament. After Monday's rescue, the sedate Daisy went home with Olson.

Has Malignant Tumor

Boy Plane-Bound For Ohio To Spend 'Last Christmas'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy left here by plane early today to go home to Logan, Ohio, to spend what doctors say may be his last Christmas.

Brown - haired Kenneth Ucker, dying of a malignant tumor in his abdomen, had expressed a desire to return to Logan where he has lived most of his life.

Friends of the Ucker family in Logan, 50 miles southeast of Columbus, collected money for the plane fare and plan a welcome for Kenneth at the end of the 15-hour journey. Greeters will include Kenneth's pals in his old Cub Scout pack and his former teammates on a Logan Little League team. He was a pitcher on the team.

Kenneth and his mother will be met in Columbus by an ambulance which will transport him to Logan. Their plane is due to arrive in Columbus at 3:15 p.m. (EST).

Mrs. Ucker said that Kenneth became listless and complained of stomach pains about a month ago.

"I thought he was just homesick," she said. "He hated for us to leave Logan."

Kenneth was examined and, three weeks ago, an exploratory operation revealed the tumor. A physician said the cancerous growth, unusual in a child so young, was inoperable.

The Uckers came to San Diego last August. Before coming here the family had spent a short time in Jackson Hole, Wyo.

When Kenneth entered the hospital for the exploratory operation Mrs. Ucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mc Minnis of Logan, came here to care for the other child, Martin, 3.

Kenneth's father, Paul a linotype operator on a weekly newspaper, hopes to join his wife and son in Logan during the Christmas holidays.

President Slated To Fly Back To Capital Today

The rest of the family — the President's wife and the three grandchildren of school age — went back to Washington Sunday. The John Eisenhowers and their youngsters came to Augusta for the Thanksgiving weekend.

In advance of departure, the President planned a final round of golf. Up to today he had played 11 eighteen-hole rounds and made one nine-hole tour at the Augusta National Golf Club course. He hasn't missed a day so far.

Eisenhower returns to a busy schedule in Washington the next few weeks. At the top of his work calendar are preparations for the convening of the new Congress Jan. 7.

Still to be completed are the legislative program and the federal budget which will go to the lawmakers shortly after they open shop. Congressional leaders of both parties probably will be called to the White House for conferences on those matters later this month.

Submits Low Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The apparent low bid of $9,289 for supplying and installing a standby electric power plant at Gallipolis State Institute was submitted Monday by the Wente Construction Co., Inc., of Huntington, W. Va. The state had estimated the cost at $9,500.

Weather Nice In November Despite Storm

A 9-inch snowfall and sub-freezing temperatures the last three days made it appear the month was especially wintry, but Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, pointed out the month brought some of the finest weather of the year.

The temperature in November averaged 42.5 degrees, almost 3 degrees warmer than the normal 39.6 degrees in Copeland's 64-year-old records.

Although the mercury hit a low of 3 degrees below zero Sunday, the temperature ranged as high as 75 degrees Nov. 17-18. The all-time low for November was 4 degrees below during the heavy snow of 1950.

Rainfall last month amounted to 2.24 inches, slightly less than the normal 2.41 inches, but the year's total precipitation remains far in advance of the customary amount. Total rainfall for 11 months stands at 42.87 inches, compared to the average of 34.38 inches for 11 months.

Snowfall amounted to 9 inches, compared to normal 2.3 inches for November, but no record was set, Copeland reported. Snowfall Nov. 9, 1913, totaled 15 inches, and of course there was a total of 22.5 inches recorded in the "Big Snow" of Nov. 24, 1950.

There were 10 partly cloudy days, 11 clear days and 9 cloudy days, Copeland reported.

Firemen Probe Ruins To Seek Cause Of Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Firemen searched the ruins of three stores in the Kinsman - Lee Shopping Center in suburban Shaker Heights today to determine what caused a $300,000 fire.

Flames broke out Monday night in the Mir-Lee Shopping Center and spread to two adjoining shops. A fire wall contained the blaze and other adjacent businesses were not damaged.

It took firemen 90 minutes to bring the blaze under control. Damage was estimated by Merle Hand, Shaker Heights fire chief.

Accused Of Passing $30,000

Six Waive Preliminary Hearing On Bad Checks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Six persons accused of passing $30,000 in fraudulent checks in six states chose the quick way to get their case before U.S. District Court.

"Which is the shortest way?" Perry Emerson Jr., 26, asked when he appeared before U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn Monday.

"From where to where?" replied the commissioner.

The commissioner allowed that the shortest way was to waive a preliminary hearing.

"Then I waive," Emerson said.

"And I waive too," was the quick reaction of Frederick K. Moore, 21, charged along with Emerson and four women companions.

The four women made no comment, but followed the lead of Emerson and Moore. They were Miss Joyce A. Price, 21; Miss Saundra Hughes, 19; Miss Almeta Gonzalez, 17, and Miss Mary Proctor, 21. All are from Cleveland except Miss Proctor, who lives in Ravenna.

William A. Murphy, agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said when the six were arrested Monday that the men were the brains of the operation. The women cashed checks, which ranged in value from $90 to $300, and received a 20 per cent commission.

In the past 10 months, Murphy said, the gang operated in Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York.

All but Miss Price was held at county jail under bond, $20,000 for the men and $2,000 for the women. Miss Price posted the bond and was released.

Arson Suspected In Epidemic Of Fires In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Striking similarities in an epidemic of major fires here this year indicate arsonists have been behind some of them.

There have been seven big fires on the west side of Toledo and in adjoining Washington Twp., causing losses of approximately 1½ million dollars.

Most of the fires broke out while the places were closed. In most cases, the fires had a good start before they were seen. Frequently the damage was so extensive that it thwarted efforts to determine the causes.

In one—a $260,000 blaze that gutted Epworth Methodist Church Sept. 7—arson has been held definitely the cause.

The biggest loss, $600,000, was in a Jan. 25 blaze that destroyed the W. T. Grant Store and damaged four others in the Miracle Mile shopping center. An insurance settlement was made on the basis that the fire was caused by a discarded cigarette.

The latest major fire was Monday, when an $80,000 blaze wrecked the Franklin Park Furniture Co. building. It was blamed on a thermostat failure on a gas unit heater.

Other big fires were at the Embers Night Club, the Tivoli Restaurant, the Leader Department Store and in a building housing a warehouse and a bottling concern.

Soviet Bloc Raps A-Arming Of Germany

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet bloc delegates said today any nuclear armament of West Germany would have an adverse effect on the arms control negotiations in Geneva.

Soviet and Polish delegates stressed that at the 10-nation talks on surprise attack problems.

A decision on nuclear weapons for West Germany is expected to be made at the NATO meeting in Paris this month.

Zoning Group Resigns With Tax Rejected

The five members of the St. Clair Township Zoning Commission resigned Monday night, submitting a letter to the township trustees and citing the failure of voters to support a proposed seven-tenth mill zoning levy in the Nov. 4 election.

The proposed levy was to provide funds for preparing a zoning program for the township, since there is not enough regular tax money available for the project.

The commission included Dean Wilhelm, Paul Brown, Harry Cottrell, Wilmer Bryson and Thomas Worcester. The resignations were accepted by the trustees, who said the zoning program now is static because of lack of funds.

A renewal of efforts for a street numbering project for Calcutta was requested by Virgil Kirkbride. The project was launched earlier this year, but became bogged down when the trustees were unable to obtain engineering service for proper assignment of numbers.

The trustees, who had originally contacted the office of the county engineer, now plan to consult with George Bloomgren, East Liverpool city engineer.

Use of the township hall was granted to Peg Rambo for Dec. 11. Trustees authorized payment of $1.80 an hour for extra help of Dave Dray in roadwork and snow removal.

The trustees will meet again Monday night.

Has Malignant Tumor

Boy Plane-Bound For Ohio To Spend 'Last Christmas'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy left here by plane early today to go home to Logan, Ohio, to spend what doctors say may be his last Christmas.

Brown - haired Kenneth Ucker, dying of a malignant tumor in his abdomen, had expressed a desire to return to Logan where he has lived most of his life.

Friends of the Ucker family in Logan, 50 miles southeast of Columbus, collected money for the plane fare and plan a welcome for Kenneth at the end of the 15-hour journey. Greeters will include Kenneth's pals in his old Cub Scout pack and his former teammates on a Logan Little League team. He was a pitcher on the team.

Kenneth and his mother will be met in Columbus by an ambulance which will transport him to Logan. Their plane is due to arrive in Columbus at 3:15 p.m. (EST).

Mrs. Ucker said that Kenneth became listless and complained of stomach pains about a month ago.

"I thought he was just homesick," she said. "He hated for us to leave Logan."

Kenneth was examined and, three weeks ago, an exploratory operation revealed the tumor. A physician said the cancerous growth, unusual in a child so young, was inoperable.

The Uckers came to San Diego last August. Before coming here the family had spent a short time in Jackson Hole, Wyo.

When Kenneth entered the hospital for the exploratory operation Mrs. Ucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mc Minnis of Logan, came here to care for the other child, Martin, 3.

Kenneth's father, Paul a linotype operator on a weekly newspaper, hopes to join his wife and son in Logan during the Christmas holidays.

President Slated To Fly Back To Capital Today

The rest of the family — the President's wife and the three grandchildren of school age — went back to Washington Sunday. The John Eisenhowers and their youngsters came to Augusta for the Thanksgiving weekend.

In advance of departure, the President planned a final round of golf. Up to today he had played 11 eighteen-hole rounds and made one nine-hole tour at the Augusta National Golf Club course. He hasn't missed a day so far.

Eisenhower returns to a busy schedule in Washington the next few weeks. At the top of his work calendar are preparations for the convening of the new Congress Jan. 7.

Still to be completed are the legislative program and the federal budget which will go to the lawmakers shortly after they open shop. Congressional leaders of both parties probably will be called to the White House for conferences on those matters later this month.

Submits Low Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The apparent low bid of $9,289 for supplying and installing a standby electric power plant at Gallipolis State Institute was submitted Monday by the Wente Construction Co., Inc., of Huntington, W. Va. The state had estimated the cost at $9,500.

Weather Nice In November Despite Storm

A 9-inch snowfall and sub-freezing temperatures the last three days made it appear the month was especially wintry, but Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, pointed out the month brought some of the finest weather of the year.

The temperature in November averaged 42.5 degrees, almost 3 degrees warmer than the normal 39.6 degrees in Copeland's 64-year-old records.

Although the mercury hit a low of 3 degrees below zero Sunday, the temperature ranged as high as 75 degrees Nov. 17-18. The all-time low for November was 4 degrees below during the heavy snow of 1950.

Rainfall last month amounted to 2.24 inches, slightly less than the normal 2.41 inches, but the year's total precipitation remains far in advance of the customary amount. Total rainfall for 11 months stands at 42.87 inches, compared to the average of 34.38 inches for 11 months.

Snowfall amounted to 9 inches, compared to normal 2.3 inches for November, but no record was set, Copeland reported. Snowfall Nov. 9, 1913, totaled 15 inches, and of course there was a total of 22.5 inches recorded in the "Big Snow" of Nov. 24, 1950.

There were 10 partly cloudy days, 11 clear days and 9 cloudy days, Copeland reported.

Firemen Probe Ruins To Seek Cause Of Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Firemen searched the ruins of three stores in the Kinsman - Lee Shopping Center in suburban Shaker Heights today to determine what caused a $300,000 fire.

Flames broke out Monday night in the Mir-Lee Shopping Center and spread to two adjoining shops. A fire wall contained the blaze and other adjacent businesses were not damaged.

It took firemen 90 minutes to bring the blaze under control. Damage was estimated by Merle Hand, Shaker Heights fire chief.

Accused Of Passing $30,000

Six Waive Preliminary Hearing On Bad Checks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Six persons accused of passing $30,000 in fraudulent checks in six states chose the quick way to get their case before U.S. District Court.

"Which is the shortest way?" Perry Emerson Jr., 26, asked when he appeared before U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn Monday.

"From where to where?" replied the commissioner.

The commissioner allowed that the shortest way was to waive a preliminary hearing.

"Then I waive," Emerson said. "And I waive too," was the quick reaction of Frederick K. Moore, 21, charged along with Emerson and four women companions.

The four women made no comment, but followed the lead of Emerson and Moore. They were Miss Joyce A. Price, 21; Miss Saundra Hughes, 19; Miss Almeta Gonzalez, 17, and Miss Mary Proctor, 21. All are from Cleveland except Miss Proctor, who lives in Ravenna.

William A. Murphy, agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said when the six were arrested Monday that the men were the brains of the operation. The women cashed checks, which ranged in value from $90 to $300, and received a 20 per cent commission.

In the past 10 months, Murphy said, the gang operated in Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York.

All but Miss Price was held at county jail under bond, $20,000 for the men and $2,000 for the women. Miss Price posted the bond and was released.

Arson Suspected In Epidemic Of Fires In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Striking similarities in an epidemic of major fires here this year indicate arsonists have been behind some of them.

There have been seven big fires on the west side of Toledo and in adjoining Washington Twp., causing losses of approximately 1½ million dollars.

Most of the fires broke out while the places were closed. In most cases, the fires had a good start before they were seen. Frequently the damage was so extensive that it thwarted efforts to determine the causes.

In one—a $260,000 blaze that gutted Epworth Methodist Church Sept. 7—arson has been held definitely the cause.

The biggest loss, $600,000, was in a Jan. 25 blaze that destroyed the W. T. Grant Store and damaged four others in the Miracle Mile shopping center. An insurance settlement was made on the basis that the fire was caused by a discarded cigarette.

The latest major fire was Monday, when an $80,000 blaze wrecked the Franklin Park Furniture Co. building. It was blamed on a thermostat failure on a gas unit heater.

Other big fires were at the Embers Night Club, the Tivoli Restaurant, the Leader Department Store and in a building housing a warehouse and a bottling concern.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Protective Pattern Beats Fad Diets

One successful reducer reports that one line in the column set her on the right course. It was the frank question: "Why don't you try the protective plan of eating to reduce your weight?"

Ida Jean Kain

With everyone talking about diet, why are so many people overweight? The truth is, dieting is not really the solution. Diets do nothing to change your everyday way of eating or the way you think about food, and they therefore ignore the real issue—weight control. When you reduce with the protective plan, you have a healthy hold on the food habits that enable you to keep the pounds off.

Since so many overweights tip the scales at 170 pounds, the classic example of the two friends, each weighing 170 pounds, who started to reduce together bears repeating.

ONE OVERWEIGHT followed a faddy type diet which promised fast reducing. The other decided in favor of the protective pattern.

A year later, the reducer who had followed the scientific diet planned around the protective foods had not only reduced to her right weight of 125 pounds, but had kept the pounds off. Her friend still weighed 170 pounds, despite repeated attempts at reducing.

Faddy diets invariably fail. Even when you lose on them, the pounds come back on, usually with compound interest.

The hardest part of my job as a dietitian is trying to sell you on the idea that you can eat to lose weight, and that reducing need not take all the fun out of eating.

By applying the brilliant advances in nutrition science to everyday eating, all nutrition essentials can be included in low calorie fare. You can lose one to two pounds a week without going hungry, feeling tired or edgy. Most amazing is the amount of food you can eat while reducing.

Here's the pattern. Build each meal around a high value protein—have daily: two glasses of skim milk, buttermilk or liquified non-fat dry milk; an egg, a serving of cottage cheese or a second egg; a generous serving of lean meat, fish or fowl.

INCLUDE ONE dark green leafy or deep yellow vegetable and one citrus fruit, plus a second fruit. Some starch is needed in the scientific pattern. Take it in your favored food, potatoes or bread. Restrict starch to one at a meal.

By having a limited amount of bread or potato or other starchy food, plus vegetables, fruit and milk, the tissue burned is fatty tissue, which is just what you want.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Keep In Trim

Protective Pattern Beats Fad Diets

One successful reducer reports that one line in the column set her on the right course. It was the frank question: "Why don't you try the protective plan of eating to reduce your weight?"

Ida Jean Kain

With everyone talking about diet, why are so many people overweight? The truth is, dieting is not really the solution. Diets do nothing to change your everyday way of eating or the way you think about food, and they therefore ignore the real issue—weight control. When you reduce with the protective plan, you have a healthy hold on the food habits that enable you to keep the pounds off.

Since so many overweights tip the scales at 170 pounds, the classic example of the two friends, each weighing 170 pounds, who started to reduce together bears repeating.

ONE OVERWEIGHT followed a faddy type diet which promised fast reducing. The other decided in favor of the protective pattern.

A year later, the reducer who had followed the scientific diet planned around the protective foods had not only reduced to her right weight of 125 pounds, but had kept the pounds off. Her friend still weighed 170 pounds, despite repeated attempts at reducing.

Faddy diets invariably fail. Even when you lose on them, the pounds come back on, usually with compound interest.

The hardest part of my job as a dietitian is trying to sell you on the idea that you can eat to lose weight, and that reducing need not take all the fun out of eating.

By applying the brilliant advances in nutrition science to everyday eating, all nutrition essentials can be included in low calorie fare. You can lose one to two pounds a week without going hungry, feeling tired or edgy. Most amazing is the amount of food you can eat while reducing.

Here's the pattern. Build each meal around a high value protein—have daily: two glasses of skim milk, buttermilk or liquified non-fat dry milk; an egg, a serving of cottage cheese or a second egg; a generous serving of lean meat, fish or fowl.

These protein foods form the backbone of the menu. Trim fats sharply. Vegetables and fruits: 4 servings daily.

INCLUDE ONE dark green leafy or deep yellow vegetable and one citrus fruit, plus a second fruit. Some starch is needed in the scientific pattern. Take it in your favored food, potatoes or bread. Restrict starch to one at a meal.

By having a limited amount of bread or potato or other starchy food, plus vegetables, fruit and milk, the tissue burned is fatty tissue, which is just what you want.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago this Christmas I became engaged to a boy I'd gone with all through school. The week after we sent out announcements he told me he'd gotten a girl in trouble and had to marry her.

I almost went out of my mind. It was months before I could go out of the house and face people. It took almost a year before I could speak his name without getting physically ill.

There isn't enough ink in this pen to tell you what that experience did to me. I haven't been able to fall in love again but I've made a good adjustment and am dating some fine fellows.

Last week my former fiance phoned and asked me to meet him in the public library. He sounded troubled so I agreed.

He told me he hates his wife and the baby means nothing to him. He says it may not be his.

He wants to divorce her and marry me. He says life isn't worth living if he can't have me. I'm afraid he may commit suicide.

I would hate to be responsible for such a thing. I'm very confused. I loved him once but now I'm afraid to get involved again. Yet I can't be cruel. What shall I do?—LAURA.

This character made a mess of his own life and you can be sure his wife is sorry she ever laid eyes on him. He's poison. Tell him to stay away and don't permit him to play on your sympathy. Refuse to meet him again or you may find yourself involved in a very sick relationship.

Enjoy New Furniture

Dear Ann: My husband dared me to write you this letter. Our problem is not unique. It is one shared by thousands of women.

My kids won't let me sleep days and my husband keeps me up nights. I'm tired all the time. He's a restless sleeper, thrashes around continuously, takes his half of the bed out of the middle, wraps himself in the blankets and leaves me shivering.

I've begged for twin beds but he insists the double is the cornerstone of a happy marriage. What do you suggest? — BEAT BEVERLY.

Dear Beat: The double bed may be the cornerstone of a happy marriage but exhaustion could be the tombstone.

There's no reason why a wife should have to beg for twin beds if a double bed is wrecking her health and ruining her disposition.

Tell your husband the average person spends one-third of his life in bed. It's an undisputed fact that when THAT third is happy, the remaining two-thirds is considerably more pleasant. I hope you enjoy your new furniture.

Soap For Granny

Dear Ann Landers: What sounds worse than a dirty joke from the lips of a lovely grandmother?

My grandmother belongs to a bridge club. The members have all been brought up to be ladies. When they meet, one wonders what happened to the "ladies."

These women do not confine their joke telling to the club meetings. They pick up the stories here then tell them in mixed company. I find this revolting.

I know its not up to me to straighten out my grandmother but I hope you'll print this letter and perhaps some of the women, including Granny, will see it and take the hint. — TINA.

Dear Tina: The letter's printed. And now a word to the grandmothers! It's a mighty sad commentary when the third generation removed has to write such a letter. Clean up the conversation, girls, and set a decent example.

Confidentially

THE CYNIC: Yes, I believe in prayer. If you haven't tried it, don't knock it.

-:-

JACK: Your betrothed, like Penelope, may be sewing all day but I suspect she's becoming slightly unraveled at night. She's not ready to settle down. Get smart.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One Is Hospitalized Others Are Treated

A city boy was hospitalized following a sled mishap and two other youngsters were treated at City Hospital Monday after they were injured while coasting.

Bruce Golding, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Golding of Fairview St., is in "good" condition with abrasions and bruises of the cheek and upper lip suffered last night when a runner on his sled broke, throwing him into a pile of ashes.

Rosemary Dawson, 10, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Dawson of Church St., Chester, was treated yesterday afternoon for a bruised eye and chipped tooth suffered when her sled struck a parked truck.

Hurt when his sled hit a rock last night, John Frederick, 8, son of Mrs. Ruth Frederick of Holliday St., received a laceration of the forehead.

Robert Wood, 33, of Chester Ave. was treated last night for a foot injury suffered when he slipped on ice.

Prosecution Ends Case In Murder Trial In Belmont

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The prosecution has already rested its case, and the first-degree murder trial of Clarence R. Anshutz, 38, of Barnesville (Belmont County) may be completed Wednesday.

Anshutz, a construction worker, is being tried in the shooting of his common-law wife Aug. 18. Authorities said he attempted to take his own life by placing a shotgun in his mouth, but instead shot away part of his cheek and nose.

Three judges are hearing the case in Belmont County Common Pleas Court. The prosecution presented its case in four hours Monday, and introduced what it contends is Anshutz' written admission of the shooting. The defense asserted Anshutz' father, Robert, shot another man Nov. 2, 1932, then took his own life, and that this has preyed on his son's mind.

A motion to reduce the charge to second-degree murder was overruled.

Ohio's Turnpike Revenue Million Ahead Of 1957

For the month of November revenue from all sources was estimated at $1,560,000 or $156,000 ahead of November, 1957. The 843,000 vehicles using the road during November was an increase of 29,000 over a year ago.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago this Christmas I became engaged to a boy I'd gone with all through school. The week after we sent out announcements he told me he'd gotten a girl in trouble and had to marry her.

I almost went out of my mind. It was months before I could go out of the house and face people. It took almost a year before I could speak his name without getting physically ill.

There isn't enough ink in this pen to tell you what that experence did to me. I haven't been able to fall in love again but I've made a good adjustment and am dating some fine fellows.

Last week my former fiance phoned and asked me to meet him in the public library. He sounded troubled so I agreed.

He told me he hates his wife and the baby means nothing to him. He says it may not be his.

He wants to divorce her and marry me. He says life isn't worth living if he can't have me. I'm afraid he may commit suicide.

I would hate to be responsible for such a thing. I'm very confused. I loved him once but now I'm afraid to get involved again. Yet I can't be cruel. What shall I do?—LAURA.

This character made a mess of his own life and you can be sure his wife is sorry she ever laid eyes on him. He's poison. Tell him to stay away and don't permit him to play on your sympathy. Refuse to meet him again or you may find yourself involved in a very sick relationship.

Enjoy New Furniture

Dear Ann: My husband dared me to write you this letter. Our problem is not unique. It is one shared by thousands of women.

My kids won't let me sleep days and my husband keeps me up nights. I'm tired all the time. He's a restless sleeper, thrashes around continuously, takes his half of the bed out of the middle, wraps himself in the blankets and leaves me shivering.

I've begged for twin beds but he insists the double is the cornerstone of a happy marriage. What do you suggest? — BEAT BEVERLY.

Dear Beat: The double bed may be the cornerstone of a happy marriage but exhaustion could be the tombstone.

Students Raise $1,036 For Use By Chester Park

Completion of a Chester High School student drive for $1,000 to complete construction of a community center at the City Park was reported at a meeting of the Park Commission Monday night.

Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, said students raised $1,036 in the recent drive, marking $1,036 in the $1,000 they have obtained in the "Buck-a-Block" campaign.

The American Legion Post 121, which has already matched the first two drives, will also match this latest contribution, Miss Thomas said.

The student drive included $398 from a magazine subscription sale by the Student Council, $100 from the National Church Supply, $50 from the Catholic Envelope Service, $50 from the Baptist Book Store envelope service; $97 from the Chester High School Class of 1958, and $341 from individuals and miscellaneous sources.

Construction of the four walls at the new center have been completed, and erection of the roof will begin soon, it was announced. John Pinney presided. The next meeting will be Dec. 15.

Previously only charter members were allowed to vote or hold office.

Nationalist Uruguay's Top Political Figure

The right-wing Herrerista faction of the National party won control of Uruguay's nine-man National Council of Government by upsetting the Colorado (liberal) party in voting Sunday.

No change in Uruguay's pro-Western foreign policy was expected though Herrera has clashed with the Western democracies frequently in the past and favored neutrality during World War II.

Amish Farmer's Still Opposed To Duty In Service

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 11 months Amos J. Mast spent in confinement at a federal prison farm has not changed his mind about the Selective Service Act. The 27-year-old Amish farmer still refuses to report for duty.

"My religion will not allow me to serve in any way in any relation with the military service," Mast said Monday before U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn.

Mast appeared before Horn to answer an indictment returned by a federal grand jury in Indianapolis, Ind., for failing to report for hospital duty. He resides at Homerville (Medina County), but is registered with the LaGrange, Ind. draft board, where he lived formerly.

He served 11 months of a two-year sentence at Mill Point, W. Va., federal prison following a 1954 conviction for refusing to serve.

Horn ordered arraignment delayed for a week to decide whether the case will be heard here or in Indianapolis.

Strike Affects Auto-Lite Plants In Seven Cities

DETROIT (AP)—A strike today cut into production of the Electric Auto-lite Co. and affected company plants in seven cities.

The exact effect on the automobile equipment supply firm was not clear. The United Auto Workers said the strike involved 8,500 union members. However, the company said only about 3,800 are employed at affected plants.

The UAW struck Monday when national contract negotiations failed to produce an agreement at a union-set noon deadline.

Auto-Lite plants were struck in Fostoria, Ohio; LaCrosse, Wis.; Bay City and Owosso, Mich.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Vincennes, Ind., and Atlanta, Ga.

Auto-Lite, which also makes marine and aircraft instruments, has about 20 plants in as many cities in the United States and Canada.

The UAW said it did not call strikes at more than the seven cities because to do so "would not serve any interest or put any compelling pressure on the company."

Completion of a Chester High School student drive for $1,000 to complete construction of a community center at the City Park was reported at a meeting of the Park Commission Monday night.

Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, said students raised $1,036 in the recent drive, marking $1,036 in the $1,000 they have obtained in the "Buck-a-Block" campaign.

The American Legion Post 121, which has already matched the first two drives, will also match this latest contribution, Miss Thomas said.

The student drive included $398 from a magazine subscription sale by the Student Council, $100 from the National Church Supply, $50 from the Catholic Envelope Service, $50 from the Baptist Book Store envelope service; $97 from the Chester High School Class of 1958, and $341 from individuals and miscellaneous sources.

Construction of the four walls at the new center have been completed, and erection of the roof will begin soon, it was announced. John Pinney presided. The next meeting will be Dec. 15.

Nationalist Uruguay's Top Political Figure

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Luis Alberto de Herrera, a rabid 85-year-old nationalist, is the new top political figure in this South American republic.

No change in Uruguay's pro-Western foreign policy was expected though Herrera has clashed with the Western democracies frequently in the past and favored neutrality during World War II.

Amish Farmer's Still Opposed To Duty In Service

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 11 months Amos J. Mast spent in confinement at a federal prison farm has not changed his mind about the Selective Service Act. The 27-year-old Amish farmer still refuses to report for duty.

"My religion will not allow me to serve in any way in any relation with the military service," Mast said Monday before U.S. Commissioner H. A. Horn.

Mast appeared before Horn to answer an indictment returned by a federal grand jury in Indianapolis, Ind., for failing to report for hospital duty. He resides at Homerville (Medina County), but is registered with the LaGrange, Ind. draft board, where he lived formerly.

He served 11 months of a two-year sentence at Mill Point, W. Va., federal prison following a 1954 conviction for refusing to serve.

Horn ordered arraignment delayed for a week to decide whether the case will be heard here or in Indianapolis.

Negotiations Go On For Sale Of Bus Route

Council Authorizes Franchise Transfer Of One Holtz Line

Negotiations are continuing for sale of the East End bus line from the Holtz Transportation Co. to Tri-State Transit Co., which now serves Chester and Newell, Councilman William Y. Orr, franchise committee chairman, revealed to Council Monday night.

He made the announcement after Council enacted legislation to transfer the franchise for the Pleasant Heights line from Holtz to the Inter-City Transit Co., also operator of the Grandview route.

Inter-City, owned by John W. Young of East Palestine, took over the Pleasant Heights run Monday as a result of a sale negotiated a week ago.

Orr said "there has been some dickering" between Donald W. Barnes and John R. Campbell, operators of the Chester - Newell line, to buy the East End route from Holtz.

"I think that dickering still is going on as to price," Orr added. He also explained that Holtz has discontinued runs to Midland, at least temporarily, because he learned a company from which he obtained insurance was not licensed to sell coverage in Pennsylvania. However, half-hour service is continuing on the East End run, Orr added.

In connection with the transfer of the Pleasant Heights franchise, Councilmen George E. Willshaw and A. Stanley Kidder asked Orr if the new operator will continue to make a single round trip on Sundays for the convenience of church-goers. The Sunday run was not spelled out in the franchise, as Holtz was operating it on a "temporary" basis.

Councilman Samuel Webber suggested the committee attempt to arrange direct bus service between West End and Pleasant Heights and the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., timed to serve workers at shift changes.

After granting Young the Pleasant Heights franchise, Council accepted by voice vote a schedule of runs furnished by the new operator.

In World War II, 12,000 army and navy nurses went overseas.

Pleas Judge Strikes Blow At School Annexation Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater has dealt a blow to Ohio's school annexation law.

He held that a constitutional provision on taxation overrides a law the State Board of Education has followed.

The decision ordered a 620-acre tract in two townships of Franklin County transferred to the Columbus School District. The city accepted the land for annexation in mid-1957.

Following such annexations, statute requires approval of the state board. Another section of state law bans such transfers if an "island" is created in the school district.

An eight-acre "island" in the Gahanna School District was created by the Columbus annexation. The state board never voted on the annexation in view of the "island" statute.

Judge Sater held that the school district transfer must be made if the resulting taxes total more than the legal 10-mill limitation.

Officials said that without the transfer to the city school district, a readjustment of mandated tax rates is necessary to keep them within the 10-mill limitation.

City Atty. Russell Leach brought the court action in behalf of the Columbus board of Education to require County Auditor Fred C. Dunn to make the transfer.

Hugh A. Sherer, chief counsel for Ohio's attorney general, said he will confer with Board President Elliott Myers before deciding whether to appeal or let the Sater ruling stand.

2 Women Inmates Are Slated For Parole Dec. 23

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two inmates serving time at the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville, for taking the lives of relatives, will be paroled two days before Christmas.

The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission granted paroles today to 11 inmates of the reformatory, most of them effective Dec. 23.

Hazel Everhart, 58, of Massillon, fatally stabbed her husband, Wade, on July 6, 1948. He was packing his clothes after a domestic quarrel when he was stabbed with a paring knife. The day before, they had been at nearby Myers Lake on a family outing that developed into a bitter quarrel. Mrs. Everhart is serving a second-degree murder sentence.

Phoebe Jean Tucker, 21, of Fremont, is serving a manslaughter sentence in connection with the death of a new-born son whom she abandoned on the day of his birth. The birth on Sept. 17, 1957, was unattended. Mrs. Tucker, wife of a serviceman stationed elsewhere, abandoned the boy near an open window of a building. The boy died in Memorial Hospital, Fremont.

On 'Free City' Proposal

West Allies May Challenge Khrushchev To Plebiscite

LONDON (AP) — Some Allied diplomats today were reported in favor of challenging Nikita Khrushchev to a plebiscite in which West Berliners could accept or reject his proposal to make their city a demilitarized free city.

Qualified informants said under the proposal being suggested, if the 2,200,000 West Berliners rejected free-city status, Khrushchev would be obliged to dump his scheme and continue to abide by the existing four-power occupation agreements.

If the West Berliners accepted the Soviet Premier's proposals, then the Americans, British and French would be bound to withdraw their 10,000 troops from their sectors of the city.

The informants stressed that this was only one of several ideas being pondered. The Allied diplomats who favor some such proposal to Moscow said they are convinced:

1. That the Russians would not risk putting their proposals to the test of public opinion.

2. That in any vote the West Berliners would resoundly reject the Soviet proposals.

There was no indication whether the idea of challenging the Russians thus has yet been considered by Allied governments at top level.

It is known, however, that the Soviet move has started some fundamental rethinking among the Allies about their position not only in Berlin but in all Germany.

Marietta Man Faces Hearing In Abusing Boy, 5

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Marietta, Ohio, man faces a hearing Wednesday on charges of cruel and unlawful punishment on a child he claims was given him last July.

Juvenile court authorities filed the charges against Donald Dean Wallace, 29, who was arrested for mistreating a 5-year-old boy.

Wallace at first claimed he was the child's father. But Arthur E. Huttoe, assistant state's attorney, said a New Orleans couple gave the boy to Wallace and a companion, Raymond Jacobson.

Wallace produced a birth certificate and a "bill of sale or lease" signed by Mrs. Donna Sloan as the boy's mother and Jacobson as witness.

The child was born at Orange City Hospital, Tex., and Mrs. Sloan wrote over her signature that she "gave the boy to Wallace for one week."

The boy's parents, who live in a trailer with two other children at New Orleans, said they surrendered the boy to Wallace and Jacobson last July, according to chief of detectives William McNamara of New Orleans.

Miami police uncovered the case when neighbors called them to the trailer park where Wallace and Jacobson lived with the child.

On 'Free City' Proposal

West Allies May Challenge Khrushchev To Plebiscite

LONDON (AP) — Some Allied diplomats today were reported in favor of challenging Nikita Khrushchev to a plebiscite in which West Berliners could accept or reject his proposal to make their city a demilitarized free city.

Qualified informants said under the proposal being suggested, if the 2,200,000 West Berliners rejected free-city status, Khrushchev would be obliged to dump his scheme and continue to abide by the existing four-power occupation agreements.

If the West Berliners accepted the Soviet Premier's proposals, then the Americans, British and French would be bound to withdraw their 10,000 troops from their sectors of the city.

The informants stressed that this was only one of several ideas being pondered. The Allied diplomats who favor some such proposal to Moscow said they are convinced:

1. That the Russians would not risk putting their proposals to the test of public opinion.

2. That in any vote the West Berliners would resoundly reject the Soviet proposals.

There was no indication whether the idea of challenging the Russians thus has yet been considered by Allied governments at top level.

It is known, however, that the Soviet move has started some fundamental rethinking among the Allies about their position not only in Berlin but in all Germany.

Marietta Man Faces Hearing In Abusing Boy, 5

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Marietta, Ohio, man faces a hearing Wednesday on charges of cruel and unlawful punishment on a child he claims was given him last July.

Juvenile court authorities filed the charges against Donald Dean Wallace, 29, who was arrested for mistreating a 5-year-old boy.

Wallace at first claimed he was the child's father. But Arthur E. Huttoe, assistant state's attorney, said a New Orleans couple gave the boy to Wallace and a companion, Raymond Jacobson.

Wallace produced a birth certificate and a "bill of sale or lease" signed by Mrs. Donna Sloan as the boy's mother and Jacobson as witness.

The child was born at Orange City Hospital, Tex., and Mrs. Sloan wrote over her signature that she "gave the boy to Wallace for one week."

The boy's parents, who live in a trailer with two other children at New Orleans, said they surrendered the boy to Wallace and Jacobson last July, according to chief of detectives William McNamara of New Orleans.

Miami police uncovered the case when neighbors called them to the trailer park where Wallace and Jacobson lived with the child.

Hosea was the last king of Israel.

The One-Minute Spectacular Commercial

The announcement of any upcoming network spectacular invariably is accompanied by a bankroll figure in the hundreds of thousands just to let us know that, if money is a barometer (and usually it's not), it's going to be a whale of a show.

Marie Torre

The most impressive figure we've seen lately is not from a major network describing a star-studded spectacle but from a producer of the commercial pitches which follow those immortal words, "And now a message from our sponsor. . ."

The figure in point is $1,250,000, which is the amount allotted to a fall series of what extravagantly are called "one-minute spectaculars" by a leading commercial maker whose call letters are MPO.

Just to illustrate what could be done in TV with $1,250,000, it could pay for a network special in which Danny Kaye does a bit part and Victor Borge plays second piano.

BUT $1,250,000 for a handful of yawn-inducing product pushers?

True, TV commercials on the whole have improved at a faster rate than television's entertainment programs and, according to MPO executive Marvin Rothenberg, that's because of $1,250,000 budgets.

While we curiously wondered why the same relationship between money and quality doesn't exist in the manufacturing of television programs, Mr. Rothenberg explained:

"The talent and technique being employed in the making of filmed commercials is frequently on the level of that which produces TV entertainment of a high caliber.

"Top talent? We've had commercials in which Eva Marie Saint performed, others with music by Gershwin and Loesser, dancing by such top ballet people as Jacques d'Ambois, Gower Champion and Carol Lawrence.

"ARTISTIC?" continued Mr. Rothenberg, who feels the need for an organization called the Society To Discourage Going to the Refrigerator for a Beer During Commercials (unless there's a beer commercial on TV, of course).

"One of our scenario editors wrote 'Hell's Angels,' one of our camera men was a foremost art film maker in Austria and our scenic designer did the set for the movie, 'Freud Strikes Back'."

What is the $1,250,000 going to produce in the way of commercials?

"Obviously," explained Mr. Rothenberg, "as in every category of TV, there is a range in quality from terrible to great. We know that anything less than a visually interesting, expertly produced commercial will get a response of at best boredom and at worst resentment.

We may be sticking our neck out, but we're betting that a box of soap flakes will win any Emmy next year.

AMONG THOSE seeking television sweepstakes is ex-champ Joe Louis, who has formed his own production company for the purpose of filming his life story in 39 half-hour episodes. The series will go before cameras in February under the title "Joe Louis' Scrap Book." . . .

Bob Hope's Christmas gift to viewers will be a repeat of the Moscow - originated film show he presented last season. The hour-long program, you may remember, afforded an excellent view of show business life in Russia, and in this case "Repeated by Popular Demand" can be believed. . . .

The matinee and evening performances by Mary Martin on NBC Easter Sunday will cost the sponsors almost a million dollars. . . .

On ABC Christmas Eve, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen will discuss the application of the Christmas story to life in the complicated 20th century, a subject full of food for thought. . . .

In hope of spreading the word about the glories of color television (and there's no denying it's glorious), the RCA Exhibition Hall in Radio City is showing demonstrations of tinted TV on a half-hourly basis.

DiSalle Picks His Chief Aide

M. J. Connell, 43, To Assist Governor

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Maurice J. Connell, a greying personable 43-year-old bachelor, will be the No. 2 man of the DiSalle administration in the Ohio capitol.

Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle today named Connell to the post of assistant to the governor, effective on inauguration day, Jan. 12.

The appointment, first to be announced by the state's first four-year governor-to-be, came in the midst of a two-day round of receptions, dinners and luncheons with DiSalle as host.

Other major appointments — those of state department directors—still are a week to 10 days away, DiSalle told newsmen. He added, however, that his own personal staff in the governor's office will be somewhat smaller than the staff employed by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill at a total annual salary of $58,000.

Today, DiSalle is entertaining Ohio's 88 Democratic county chairmen and more than 150 members of the Democratic state central and executive committees. A luncheon conference, an afternoon discussion, and a dinner meeting are on tap.

It also was a get-acquainted session. Newly elected Democratic state officials and congressmen were on deck to meet the state's political leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. DiSalle entertained about 50 Ohio newsmen and their wives Monday night at a reception and dinner.

Connell, whose job it will be to take much of the routine load off DiSalle's back, has worked with the governor-elect for a number of years.

He was administrative assistant to DiSalle while the governor-elect was federal price administrator during a 15-month period of the Korean conflict. Later, he was active on the committee in DiSalle's unsuccessful bid for the U. S. Senate in 1952.

Connell is a brother of Lucas County Common Pleas Judge Geraldine Macelwane, the only woman to occupy that bench in the history of the county.

CAB Will Guard Planes Against Amateur Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board stepped in today to protect airplanes from the hazards of amateur rocketry.

No airplane has been shot down by the amateurs' missiles and rockets—toy or otherwise—but the CAB said there is growing concern over the hazards.

"This concern has been enlarged by recent large-scale production of rockets which are available to the general public at a relatively small cost through hobby shops and department stores," it said.

To prevent such equipment from becoming potential antiaircraft weapons, the CAB proposed a series of amendments to civil air regulations under which it controls air space. It will accept comments from anyone concerned until Jan. 27, and will act after that.

The board proposed to prohibit rocket and missile firings within five miles of any airport, and to ban them entirely in areas of controlled air space such as civil airways and airport traffic patterns.

The new rules also would prohibit firings to a height of more than 500 feet unless the launch site and firing were approved by the administrator of civil aeronautics.

To Air Disbarment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court attaches say a hearing will probably be scheduled soon on a motion by twice-disbarred attorney J. Harvey Crow of Urbana, who wants a State Bar Assn. committee's complaints against him made more definite. The committee says Crow has continued to practice law despite disbarment in 1956. He was disbarred previously in 1935 and reinstated in 1950.

Council Asked To Vacate Land On Riverfront

Council asked its street committee Monday night to investigate a request to vacate sections of a riverfront street and alley filed by the owners of abutting property.

The request was filed by D. L. Singer and George Singer, who operate the Pearl China Co., including a warehouse on the south end of Market St., and Howard Parsons, operator of Parsons Coal Co. at 1st and Jackson Sts.

They asked Council to vacate 1st St. between Market St. and Jackson St. and Peach Alley from the south line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right - of - way to the Ohio River. The alley intersects 1st St. at right angles.

In their joint petition, the three said they now own the property bounded on the east by Market St., on the north by the railroad, on the west by Jackson St. and on the south by the river.

In other business, Councilman W. E. Kaiser reported that the planning committee is continuing a study of fire prevention, electrical and building codes for the city. He said the committee "will have something to report in the near future."

The meeting opened with invocation by Kaiser. Several members of the Key Club, a High School boys' organization, attended as observers.

Council Authorizes Police Garage Work

Council authorized Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti Monday night to obtain bids on repair of the operating mechanism of two huge overhead doors at the police garage at the rear of City Hall, which have not functioned properly in many years.

The suggestion for obtaining informal offers from contractors was made by Councilman George E. Willshaw, chairman of the finance committee, who estimated the work might cost $1,500 to $2,000.

As both the big doors are jammed in the open position, the big garage is of little use to the department in winter, Willshaw pointed out. Each door is about 20 feet high and 20 feet wide. They are raised and lowered by a hand - operated mechanism like a chain hoist.

Councilman Robert W. Sample said the doors have not operated properly since about 1940. Closed and heated, the garage could be used for washing and servicing vehicles, Willshaw said.

If the bids are obtained and approved on time, Council will appropriate funds for the door project at its next meeting Dec. 15, Willshaw said.

If the doors are put in operating condition again, it will eliminate a problem of fumes caused by a ceiling - mounted gas furnace in a room just inside the police station, Willshaw said. The furnace provides auxiliary heat for the cell blocks of the jail.

A small window opens from the room in which the furnace is located into the police garage, the councilman explained. If the window were left open, the furnace would not burn all the oxygen out of the air in the little room, which now causes a problem with fumes that can be detected as far away as the third floor of City Hall, Willshaw added.

But if the window is opened into the frigid garage, it makes the small office untenable from cold, Willshaw said. With the garage doors lowered, there would be plenty of air for the furnace combustion and fumes would not be a problem, he said.

27 Prisoners Received At Jail In November

LISBON — A total of 27 prisoners were received at the County Jail during November, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, who said this was in addition to 37 already confined as of Nov. 1. Thirty - seven were released during the month; two were conveyed to state institutions and four mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 161 visitors at the jail during the month.

A total of 2,691 meals were served at a cost of $953.50, making the average $1.06 per day per prisoner.

Sheriff VanFossan reported 186 papers served and 4,946 radio transmissions handled, along with 990 phone calls. Fees totaling $298.62 were collected.

The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 41 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month.

Union Constitution

U.S. Judge Ruling Due On Teamsters Monitors

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal judge is expected to decide today whether three court - appointed monitors for the Teamsters Union may overrule the union's constitution as interpreted by union officers.

Through his attorney, James R. Hoffa, a defendant in the case before Judge James C. Connell in U. S. District Court, has expressed a hope the judge will "delineate the powers and duties" of Hoffa as international presidents of the teamsters.

Hoffa's attorney, Robert C. Knee, said in the hearing's opening session Monday that "all the monitors have the right to do is to advise—they have no other powers."

At issue is the eligibility of three members of Teamsters Local 377 of Youngstown to run for election to top offices in that local of some 5,000 members in Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties.

The election was scheduled for Nov. 15, but was postponed after the eligibility dispute arose over three candidates nominated at a Nov. 5 membership meeting. Judge Connell on Nov. 14 enjoined holding of the election until after this week's hearing.

The monitors have ruled already that the three candidates are eligible to oppose incumbent officers who have been in power more than 15 years and seek re-election.

Robert Higham, president of the local, and three other incumbent officers who are plaintiffs in the case, maintain the three candidates are ineligible under the union's 1957 constitution to be nominees.

The plaintiffs say the constitution requires an office-seeker to have remitted monthly dues by the first of each month for two years prior to nomination. But employers who check-off union dues often don't remit the deducted money to the union until after the first of the month. Therefore, it was brought out at the hearing Monday, to be sure of complying with the constitutional requirement, a member would have to keep paid one month ahead on dues for at least two years before seeking office.

Warren M. Briggs, attorney for the plaintiffs, attacked the monitors, Martin E. O'Donoghue and Godfrey P. Schmidt, Monday for their ruling that regardless of the constitutional restriction, the three candidates must appear on the ballot. The monitors held the membership was not properly notified when the requirements were adopted at the 1957 convention.

Although technically a defendant in this test-case challenge of the monitors' authority, Hoffa actually is on the same side of the dispute as are Higham and the plaintiffs. Briggs said Hoffa had sent telegrams to officers and some members of Local 377 advising them the constitution made the three rank-and-file members ineligible to be candidates.

But, Briggs added, "he made no definite ruling on the situation and left it up to the local, more or less, to decide. So the officers decided to ask for a court ruling and let the judge decide."

The One-Minute Spectacular Commercial

The announcement of any upcoming network spectacular invariably is accompanied by a bankroll figure in the hundreds of thousands just to let us know that, if money is a barometer (and usually it's not), it's going to be a whale of a show.

Marie Torre

The most impressive figure we've seen lately is not from a major network describing a star-studded spectacle but from a producer of the commercial pitches which follow those immortal words, "And now a message from our sponsor. . ."

The figure in point is $1,250,000, which is the amount allotted to a fall series of what extravagantly are called "one-minute spectaculars" by a leading commercial maker whose call letters are MPO.

Just to illustrate what could be done in TV with $1,250,000, it could pay for a network special in which Danny Kaye does a bit part and Victor Borge plays second piano.

BUT $1,250,000 for a handful of yawn-inducing product pushers?

True, TV commercials on the whole have improved at a faster rate than television's entertainment programs and, according to MPO executive Marvin Rothenberg, that's because of $1,250,000 budgets.

While we curiously wondered why the same relationship between money and quality doesn't exist in the manufacturing of television programs, Mr. Rothenberg explained:

"The talent and technique being employed in the making of filmed commercials is frequently on the level of that which produces TV entertainment of a high caliber.

"ARTISTIC?" continued Mr. Rothenberg, who feels the need for an organization called the Society To Discourage Going to the Refrigerator for a Beer During Commercials (unless there's a beer commercial on TV, of course).

"One of our scenario editors wrote 'Hell's Angels,' one of our camera men was a foremost art film maker in Austria and our scenic designer did the set for the movie, 'Freud Strikes Back'."

What is the $1,250,000 going to produce in the way of commercials?

"Obviously," explained Mr. Rothenberg, "as in every category of TV, there is a range in quality from terrible to great. We know that anything less than a visually interesting, expertly produced commercial will get a response of at best boredom and at worst resentment.

We may be sticking our neck out, but we're betting that a box of soap flakes will win any Emmy next year.

AMONG THOSE seeking television sweepstakes is ex-champ Joe Louis, who has formed his own production company for the purpose of filming his life story in 39 half-hour episodes. The series will go before cameras in February under the title "Joe Louis' Scrap Book." . . .

Bob Hope's Christmas gift to viewers will be a repeat of the Moscow - originated film show he presented last season. The hour-long program, you may remember, afforded an excellent view of show business life in Russia, and in this case "Repeated by Popular Demand" can be believed. . . .

The matinee and evening performances by Mary Martin on NBC Easter Sunday will cost the sponsors almost a million dollars. . . .

On ABC Christmas Eve, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen will discuss the application of the Christmas story to life in the complicated 20th century, a subject full of food for thought. . . .

In hope of spreading the word about the glories of color television (and there's no denying it's glorious), the RCA Exhibition Hall in Radio City is showing demonstrations of tinted TV on a half-hourly basis.

DiSalle Picks His Chief Aide

M. J. Connell, 43, To Assist Governor

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Maurice J. Connell, a greying personable 43-year-old bachelor, will be the No. 2 man of the DiSalle administration in the Ohio capitol.

Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle today named Connell to the post of assistant to the governor, effective on inauguration day, Jan. 12.

The appointment, first to be announced by the state's first four-year governor-to-be, came in the midst of a two-day round of receptions, dinners and luncheons with DiSalle as host.

Other major appointments — those of state department directors—still are a week to 10 days away, DiSalle told newsmen. He added, however, that his own personal staff in the governor's office will be somewhat smaller than the staff employed by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill at a total annual salary of $58,000.

Today, DiSalle is entertaining Ohio's 88 Democratic county chairmen and more than 150 members of the Democratic state central and executive committees. A luncheon conference, an afternoon discussion, and a dinner meeting are on tap.

It also was a get-acquainted session. Newly elected Democratic state officials and congressmen were on deck to meet the state's political leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. DiSalle entertained about 50 Ohio newsmen and their wives Monday night at a reception and dinner.

Connell, whose job it will be to take much of the routine load off DiSalle's back, has worked with the governor-elect for a number of years.

He was administrative assistant to DiSalle while the governor-elect was federal price administrator during a 15-month period of the Korean conflict. Later, he was active on the committee in DiSalle's unsuccessful bid for the U. S. Senate in 1952.

Connell is a brother of Lucas County Common Pleas Judge Geraldine Macelwane, the only woman to occupy that bench in the history of the county.

CAB Will Guard Planes Against Amateur Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board stepped in today to protect airplanes from the hazards of amateur rocketry.

No airplane has been shot down by the amateurs' missiles and rockets—toy or otherwise—but the CAB said there is growing concern over the hazards.

"This concern has been enlarged by recent large-scale production of rockets which are available to the general public at a relatively small cost through hobby shops and department stores," it said.

To prevent such equipment from becoming potential antiaircraft weapons, the CAB proposed a series of amendments to civil air regulations under which it controls air space. It will accept comments from anyone concerned until Jan. 27, and will act after that.

The board proposed to prohibit rocket and missile firings within five miles of any airport, and to ban them entirely in areas of controlled air space such as civil airways and airport traffic patterns.

The new rules also would prohibit firings to a height of more than 500 feet unless the launch site and firing were approved by the administrator of civil aeronautics.

To Air Disbarment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court attaches say a hearing will probably be scheduled soon on a motion by twice-disbarred attorney J. Harvey Crow of Urbana, who wants a State Bar Assn. committee's complaints against him made more definite. The committee says Crow has continued to practice law despite disbarment in 1956. He was disbarred previously in 1935 and reinstated in 1950.

Council Asked To Vacate Land On Riverfront

Council asked its street committee Monday night to investigate a request to vacate sections of a riverfront street and alley filed by the owners of abutting property.

The request was filed by D. L. Singer and George Singer, who operate the Pearl China Co., including a warehouse on the south end of Market St., and Howard Parsons, operator of Parsons Coal Co. at 1st and Jackson Sts.

They asked Council to vacate 1st St. between Market St. and Jackson St. and Peach Alley from the south line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right - of - way to the Ohio River. The alley intersects 1st St. at right angles.

In their joint petition, the three said they now own the property bounded on the east by Market St., on the north by the railroad, on the west by Jackson St. and on the south by the river.

In other business, Councilman W. E. Kaiser reported that the planning committee is continuing a study of fire prevention, electrical and building codes for the city. He said the committee "will have something to report in the near future."

The meeting opened with invocation by Kaiser. Several members of the Key Club, a High School boys' organization, attended as observers.

Council Authorizes Police Garage Work

Council authorized Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti Monday night to obtain bids on repair of the operating mechanism of two huge overhead doors at the police garage at the rear of City Hall, which have not functioned properly in many years.

The suggestion for obtaining informal offers from contractors was made by Councilman George E. Willshaw, chairman of the finance committee, who estimated the work might cost $1,500 to $2,000.

As both the big doors are jammed in the open position, the big garage is of little use to the department in winter, Willshaw pointed out. Each door is about 20 feet high and 20 feet wide. They are raised and lowered by a hand - operated mechanism like a chain hoist.

Councilman Robert W. Sample said the doors have not operated properly since about 1940. Closed and heated, the garage could be used for washing and servicing vehicles, Willshaw said.

If the bids are obtained and approved on time, Council will appropriate funds for the door project at its next meeting Dec. 15, Willshaw said.

If the doors are put in operating condition again, it will eliminate a problem of fumes caused by a ceiling - mounted gas furnace in a room just inside the police station, Willshaw said. The furnace provides auxiliary heat for the cell blocks of the jail.

A small window opens from the room in which the furnace is located into the police garage, the councilman explained. If the window were left open, the furnace would not burn all the oxygen out of the air in the little room, which now causes a problem with fumes that can be detected as far away as the third floor of City Hall, Willshaw added.

But if the window is opened into the frigid garage, it makes the small office untenable from cold, Willshaw said. With the garage doors lowered, there would be plenty of air for the furnace combustion and fumes would not be a problem, he said.

27 Prisoners Received At Jail In November

LISBON — A total of 27 prisoners were received at the County Jail during November, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, who said this was in addition to 37 already confined as of Nov. 1. Thirty - seven were released during the month; two were conveyed to state institutions and four mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 161 visitors at the jail during the month.

A total of 2,691 meals were served at a cost of $953.50, making the average $1.06 per day per prisoner.

Sheriff VanFossan reported 186 papers served and 4,946 radio transmissions handled, along with 990 phone calls. Fees totaling $298.62 were collected.

The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 41 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month.

Union Constitution

U.S. Judge Ruling Due On Teamsters Monitors

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal judge is expected to decide today whether three court - appointed monitors for the Teamsters Union may overrule the union's constitution as interpreted by union officers.

Through his attorney, James R. Hoffa, a defendant in the case before Judge James C. Connell in U. S. District Court, has expressed a hope the judge will "delineate the powers and duties" of Hoffa as international presidents of the teamsters.

Hoffa's attorney, Robert C. Knee, said in the hearing's opening session Monday that "all the monitors have the right to do is to advise—they have no other powers."

At issue is the eligibility of three members of Teamsters Local 377 of Youngstown to run for election to top offices in that local of some 5,000 members in Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties.

The election was scheduled for Nov. 15, but was postponed after the eligibility dispute arose over three candidates nominated at a Nov. 5 membership meeting. Judge Connell on Nov. 14 enjoined holding of the election until after this week's hearing.

The monitors have ruled already that the three candidates are eligible to oppose incumbent officers who have been in power more than 15 years and seek re-election.

Robert Higham, president of the local, and three other incumbent officers who are plaintiffs in the case, maintain the three candidates are ineligible under the union's 1957 constitution to be nominees.

The plaintiffs say the constitution requires an office-seeker to have remitted monthly dues by the first of each month for two years prior to nomination. But employers who check-off union does often don't remit the deducted money to the union until after the first of the month. Therefore, it was brought out at the hearing Monday, to be sure of complying with the constitutional requirement, a member would have to keep paid one month ahead on dues for at least two years before seeking office.

Warren M. Briggs, attorney for the plaintiffs, attacked the monitors, Martin E. O'Donoghue and Godfrey P. Schmidt, Monday for their ruling that regardless of the constitutional restriction, the three candidates must appear on the ballot. The monitors held the membership was not properly notified when the requirements were adopted at the 1957 convention.

Although technically a defendant in this test-case challenge of the monitors' authority, Hoffa actually is on the same side of the dispute as are Higham and the plaintiffs. Briggs said Hoffa had sent telegrams to officers and some members of Local 377 advising them the constitution made the three rank-and-file members ineligible to be candidates.

But, Briggs added, "he made no definite ruling on the situation and left it up to the local, more or less, to decide. So the officers decided to ask for a court ruling and let the judge decide."

Accelerated Programs Benefit Gifted Pupils

No one has written so much in recent years on what has been done throughout the United States on the education of gifted children and youths as has Dr. Paul Witty of Northwestern University. Last September, at the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association in Washington, D. C., Dr. Witty discussed the latest literature and practices in this field. As an APA member and fellow, I heard him.

By Garry Meyers

HE REPORTED on the studies which indicate the advantages of acceleration by having high IQ students skip grades and do the normal eight years of college in seven years.

The latter was tested by a study, sponsored by the Ford Foundation, which ended in 1956. It appears that the adjustment of the 1,350 students involved was satisfactory.

Another related plan provides for college - level work in high school. Sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board, it provides high schools with descriptions of college courses in 12 fields on which it will base examinations. Students who pass these examinations may win advanced college credits.

In 1953-54, the first year of the program, 18 secondary schools and 532 students participated. Many more have participated since.

In Baltimore, it is possible for pupils of high ability to be accelerated as much as two years.

In the Robert Lee School, for example, a gifted child may be able to complete three years of junior high school work in two years. Then he can enter the advanced preparatory course at any one of three high schools. Thus he may save the equivalent of a year in college. This program has been in existence for about 50 years.

TWO WELL-KNOWN programs for gifted children are in Cleveland, with its major work classes, and in New York City in the elementary school of Hunter College.

In Indianapolis, pupils with an IQ of 130 or over are eligible for special classes which have an enriched but not accelerated program. In the Colfax Elementary School of Pittsburgh, the gifted children spend half the day in special classes and the other half with their regular classes.

Dr. Witty also cited special programs in science for the brighter students in the Bronx High School of Science, New York City; in the Forest Hills High School, Monroe High School (Rochester), Evanston Township High School, and the programs in Baltimore, Phoenix and Los Angeles.

Dr. Witty also saw a broader definition of the gifted child, especially in the area of social leadership.

That's how Midland's coach George Hamilton tags this year's rangy Leopard squad which swings into the 1958 regular season tonight at Wellsville in what promises to be a schedule highlight for both teams.

Loss of four regulars from a club that posted a 19-3 record in 1957 has necessitated Hamilton to rebuild this year's team around only one returning letterman, but already optimism has crept silently into the picture.

Smith was outstanding with last year's winning club that lost to Washington in its first sectional contest, and seems headed for stardom as one of Midland's all-time great centers.

With Smith as a nucleus, Hamilton will have to turn to three lettermen and several of last year's reserves to fill the other four positions, but talent appears adequate there.

Returning lettermen include junior Gene Lake, 6-1, and Nick Vuckovich, 5-8, and Tom Golphin, 5-9, both seniors.

Hamilton tags Vuckovich as the key to the success of this year's club. Vuckovich saw frequent varsity action last year and is being groomed as a playmaker to replace Bobby Vaughn, who was declared ineligible this year.

Lake, a cousin of Youngstown University's great Herb Lake, appears much improved from last year, but Golphin has been troubled by a groin injury received in football and may not start against the Tigers tonight.

Hamilton figures this year's team has enough height — three on the squad can "dunk" the ball — but looks for lack of overall experience as a major problem to overcome.

Tallest on the squad is Allen Oberg, a 6-6 junior. Oberg could add rebound strength to the club, but is inexperienced and probably will not see much action this year.

Pat Loftus, sharp-shooting guard who was named most valuable player for the Leopards in 1957, and was also high scorer, is at Toledo University. Pete Benedict and Joe Schulte, the other two regulars, have turned to football while attaining a higher education. Benedict is at Toledo also, and Schulte, who won the outstanding foul shooting trophy, is at Marquette. Vaughn was declared the outstanding defensive man by his teammates last year and was being counted on as sure varsity material in 1958.

Despite the loss of much of his material through graduation, Hamilton said this year's team "won't be any world-beaters, but we'll have another team representative of Midland's basketball status."

Tonight's game at Wellsville is the first of a 23-game schedule for Midland, with a four-team tournament scheduled Dec. 29-30 at Farrell, included.

Hamilton looks for New Brighton's veteran five to give his team the most trouble in the WPIAL race. The Leopards will perform in a new $550,000 gymnasium sometime after the first of the year, and a tentative date has been set as Jan. 13 for the first game. Midland also will don new blue uniforms for tonight's game.

Tip-off time for tonight's game at Beacom Memorial gym in Wellsville is 8 p. m. Reserve action will get underway at 7 p. m.

Leetonia's Bob Osterling On All-Ohio Class A Team

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The kids who cavorted for the smaller schools won their rewards today as The Associated Press picked its first all-Ohio Class A football team.

The boys are just as big, rugged and fast as those from the larger schools. They come from four-year schools which have 150 or fewer boys, and three-year schools with 115 or fewer boys enrolled.

Most brilliant of the backs comes from Billiant in Jefferson County. The top lineman is from Columbus Holy Rosary.

Jerry Dougherty, the Brilliant flash, won the "Best in Class A" award among the backs by rushing for 1,537 yards and a 10.9 average, scoring 138 points and punting for a 37.3 average. He's a 155-pound fireball, standing 5-10. Of his touchdowns, 13 came on runs of 50 yards or more.

The forward wall stalwart is Ned Rambo (6-0, 189) of Rosary, which didn't allow a point as it rolled over eight straight opponents. Pat Canini, who scored 99 points for Rosary as part-time fullback but played defensive tackle all the way, won a first team berth in the line.

College scouts seeking punters will find plenty in the smaller school vineyard. Tom Adolph, Magadore halfback, and Jim Woods, fullback for Warrensville Consolidated at Tiltonsville, each averaged over 40 yards for the campaign.

Nick Weber of Portsmouth Notre Dame (5-8, 165) was one of the top scorers in the division as he rolled up 148 points—enough to land him on the second team.

Joining Dougherty in the first team offensive backfield were Quarterback Anthony Ruggerio (6-0, 164) of Gibsonburg; Fullback Bob Osterling of Leetonia (6-0, 180), who gained 1,473 yards and scored 101 points for a 4-4-1 team; and Bob Ruhl (6-2, 190), halfback from unbeaten Fredericktown.

Among the top defensive backs was Gerald Frye of Bellville, a 180-pound 5-9 chunk who made 19 tackles, blocked two punts, and scored 86 points in a 6-3 season.

Beaver Sixth Graders Oppose Negley Tonight

The squad opened the season last week by defeating School 16 of Wellsville. Game time is 7:30 p. m. A preliminary game pits Beaver Local's fifth grade against Negley's fifth grade at 6:30. It will be the first game for the fifth graders.

Beaver Local Wrestlers To Begin Season

Twelve other matches have been scheduled, including two with East Liverpool, and single dates with Linsly Military Institute of Wheeling and Brilliant.

O'Rourke, a former Wellsville athlete, says this year's squad will have to overcome inexperience, but points out several members gained valuable seasoning in last year's limited wrestling program.

The Beavers seem strongest in 127-pound class because of Carl Hoppel, a freshman, O'Rourke said Carl is a brother of Darrell and Dave Hoppel who starred for Coach Lou Venditti on the Potter squads of the last several years.

Beaver Local will participate in a district tournament at Kent State University Feb. 13 and 14 after meeting Steubenville Big Red Feb. 11. A place for the Big Red match has not been set as yet.

O'Rourke said none of the squad fits into the 175-class, but he is hoping that several boys not yet out for the team will fill the gap. Heavyweights include Arthur Matheny, a 200-pound sophomore, and Keith Clutter, a 270-pound sophomore.

Exhibition matches will be staged by the school's sixth, seventh and eighth grade teams before varsity matches. Home matches will begin at 7:30 p. m. and admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for pupils, O'Rourke said. The schedule follows:

Dec. 3	Martins Ferry, away
Dec. 6	East Liverpool, away
Dec. 13	Springfield, home

LSU Captures Football Title

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Louisiana State, the nation's only major unbeaten-untied team, ran up an overwhelming plurality in the final Associated Press college football poll of 1958 to win its first national championship.

The Bayou Tigers, titans of the Southeastern Conference, collected 139 first-place votes from among the participating 212 sports writers and broadcasters.

Iowa finished second, followed by Army, Auburn, Oklahoma and the Air Force Academy.

LSU rolled over 10 opponents, opening with a 26-6 victory over Rice Sept. 20 and closing with a 62-0 annihilation of Tulane Nov. 22. The Tigers had only two close calls — beating Florida 10-7 and Mississippi State 7-6. They scored 275 points to their opponents' 53.

In the national balloting, LSU collected 1,904 points on the usual basis of 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Iowa had 1,459, Army 1,429, Auburn 1,396, Oklahoma 1,200 and the Air Force Academy 800.

Iowa, which will play California in the Rose Bowl, replaced Auburn, which had held second in last week's poll. Auburn squeezed past Alabama 14-8 in its season finale last Saturday.

Army moved up a couple of notches on the strength of its 22-6 victory over Navy. The Cadets' record was marred only by a tie with Pittsburgh. Oklahoma dropped two rungs. The Air Force climbed up from eighth after downing Colorado 20-14.

The first 10 was rounded out by Wisconsin, Ohio State, Syracuse and Texas Christian in that order. TCU, upset by Southern Methodist, slipped from seventh place.

The top 10 teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	Louisiana State (139)	1,904
2.	Iowa (17)	1,459
3.	Army (13)	1,429
4.	Auburn (9)	1,396
5.	Oklahoma (10)	1,200
6.	Air Force (2)	800
7.	Wisconsin (13)	797
8.	Ohio State (3)	571
9.	Syracuse (1)	340
10.	Texas Christian	311

Second 10: Mississippi (2) 303; Clemson (1) 246, Purdue 196, Florida 134, South Carolina 101, California 78, Notre Dame (1) 61, Southern Methodist 52, Oklahoma State 49, Rutgers (1) 46.

Syracuse and Colgate began their football rivalry in 1891.

Blue And White Club To Meet Tonight At 8

Plans for East Liverpool's football banquet Dec. 9 will be discussed when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meets tonight at 8 in the YMCA. Ed Hester is chairman of the affair. Hap Tullis will preside tonight.

Cecconi To Be Speaker At Midland Grid Event

Louis "Bimbo" Cecconi, University of Pittsburgh freshman football coach, will be guest speaker when Lincoln High School at Midland holds its annual football banquet Thursday night at 6:30 in the St. Anthony Club.

Cecconi, who went to Pitt after graduating from Donora High School, will be accompanied by Ivan Toncic, Henry Suffoletta and John Flara, former Midland products who starred for the Panthers this season.

Cecconi played four years at Pitt at both quarterback and left halfback, under coaches Wes Fesler and Mike Milligan. He shares a record at Pitt for having intercepted three passes in one game against Penn State in 1949, and threw a pass to Nick DeRose in 1948 against Marquette in a play that covered 82 yards.

Although weighing only 160, Cecconi finished with 2,239 yards in total offense during his career with the Panthers, while tossing 13 touchdown passes. He scored 10 touchdowns in his four years at Pitt, from 1946 to 1949.

Other guests will include school officials and the staff of John Petchel, head football coach. Petchel will introduce senior gridders. Bill Moll will be toastmaster. The banquet is being arranged by the Rotary Club.

Wanzer Out, Marshall In As Royals' Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Wanzer, got his walking papers Monday as coach of the lackluster pro basketball Cincinnati Royals. He said, "I expected it.

"We were losing and there was nothing else that could be done. When it comes down to the final wire, you can't fire the ball players, so only one guy is expendable."

Outfielder, Shortstop Picked By Cleveland

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 6-foot-5 outfielder, Dale Bennetch, who hit 22 homers and batted .232 for Williamsport in the Class A Eastern League last season, was the Cleveland Indians' first choice in Monday's drafting of minor league players by major league clubs.

The Tribe's second pick was Ray Webster, a shortstop recommended by Indians' manager Joe Gordon and a .244 hitter for Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League last summer.

Gordon said he saw Webster "quite a bit early last season and I like him a lot. I like his bat mainly. In the field I'd say he is about on a par with Billy Moran, but he will outhit Moran."

Bobby Kirk, new coach of the Hockey League, coached the Flin Buffalo Bisons in the American Flon Bombers of the Saskatchewan Junior League a few years ago when they went 33 games without losing.

Midland Opens Season Tonight With One Regular In Fold

Leopards See Wellsville As Tough Rival

Not brilliant, not bad.

That's how Midland's coach George Hamilton tags this year's rangy Leopard squad which swings into the 1958 regular season tonight at Wellsville in what promises to be a schedule highlight for both teams.

Loss of four regulars from a club that posted a 19-3 record in 1957 has necessitated Hamilton to rebuild this year's team around only one returning letterman, but already optimism has crept silently into the picture.

Smith was outstanding with last year's winning club that lost to Washington in its first sectional contest, and seems headed for stardom as one of Midland's all-time great centers.

With Smith as a nucleus, Hamilton will have to turn to three lettermen and several of last year's reserves to fill the other four positions, but talent appears adequate there.

Returning lettermen include junior Gene Lake, 6-1, and Nick Vuckovich, 5-8, and Tom Golphin, 5-9, both seniors.

Hamilton tags Vuckovich as the key to the success of this year's club. Vuckovich saw frequent varsity action last year and is being groomed as a playmaker to replace Bobby Vaughn, who was declared ineligible this year.

Lake, a cousin of Youngstown University's great Herb Lake, appears much improved from last year, but Golphin has been troubled by a groin injury received in football and may not start against the Tigers tonight.

With Smith starting at center, Lake at a forward and Vuckovich at a guard, Hamilton has called on a senior and a junior from last year's reserves to round out his starting unit. They are Frank Aloi, 5-11 senior, and Steve Yetso, 6-2 junior.

Hamilton figures this year's team has enough height — three on the squad can "dunk" the ball — but looks for lack of overall experience as a major problem to overcome.

Tallest on the squad is Allen Oberg, a 6-6 junior. Oberg could add rebound strength to the club, but is inexperienced and probably will not see much action this year.

Hamilton's team last year posted one of the district's best records and the calibre of his cagers is reflected in the fact that three of the regulars are attending colleges on scholarships.

Pat Loftus, sharp-shooting guard who was named most valuable player for the Leopards in 1957, and was also high scorer, is at Toledo University. Pete Benedict and Joe Schulte, the other two regulars, have turned to football while attaining a higher education. Benedict is at Toledo also, and Schulte, who won the outstanding foul shooting trophy, is at Marquette. Vaughn was declared the outstanding defensive man by his teammates last year and was being counted on as sure varsity material in 1958.

Despite the loss of much of his material through graduation, Hamilton said this year's team "won't be any world-beaters, but we'll have another team representative of Midland's basketball status."

Tonight's game at Wellsville is the first of a 23-game schedule for Midland, with a four-team tournament scheduled Dec. 29-30 at Farrell, included.

Midland will participate in the tourney along with Farrell, Youngstown Chaney and Charleroi.

Hamilton looks for New Brighton's veteran five to give his team the most trouble in the WPIAL race. The Leopards will perform in a new $550,000 gymnasium sometime after the first of the year, and a tentative date has been set as Jan. 13 for the first game. Midland also will don new blue uniforms for tonight's game.

Tip-off time for tonight's game at Beacom Memorial gym in Wellsville is 8 p. m. Reserve action will get underway at 7 p. m.

Leetonia's Bob Osterling On All-Ohio Class A Team

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The kids who cavorted for the smaller schools won their rewards today as The Associated Press picked its first all-Ohio Class A football team.

The boys are just as big, rugged and fast as those from the larger schools. They come from four-year schools which have 150 or fewer boys, and three-year schools with 115 or fewer boys enrolled.

Most brilliant of the backs comes from Billiant in Jefferson County. The top lineman is from Columbus Holy Rosary.

Jerry Dougherty, the Brilliant flash, won the "Best in Class A" award among the backs by rushing for 1,537 yards and a 10.9 average, scoring 138 points and punting for a 37.3 average. He's a 155-pound fireball, standing 5-10. Of his touchdowns, 13 came on runs of 50 yards or more.

The forward wall stalwart is Ned Rambo (6-0, 189) of Rosary, which didn't allow a point as it rolled over eight straight opponents. Pat Canini, who scored 99 points for Rosary as part-time fullback but played defensive tackle all the way, won a first team berth in the line.

College scouts seeking punters will find plenty in the smaller school vineyard. Tom Adolph, Magadore halfback, and Jim Woods, fullback for Warrensville Consolidated at Tiltonsville, each averaged over 40 yards for the campaign.

Nick Weber of Portsmouth Notre Dame (5-8, 165) was one of the top scorers in the division as he rolled up 148 points—enough to land him on the second team.

Joining Dougherty in the first team offensive backfield were Quarterback Anthony Ruggerio (6-0, 164) of Gibsonburg; Fullback Bob Osterling of Leetonia (6-0, 180), who gained 1,473 yards and scored 101 points for a 4-4-1 team; and Bob Ruhl (6-2, 190), halfback from unbeaten Fredericktown.

Among the top defensive backs was Gerald Frye of Bellville, a 180-pound 5-9 chunk who made 19 tackles, blocked two punts, and scored 86 points in a 6-3 season.

Beaver Sixth Graders Oppose Negley Tonight

Beaver Local's sixth grade cagers will shoot for their second victory of the season tonight against Negley's sixth graders at the Beaver Local elementary gymnasium.

The squad opened the season last week by defeating School 16 of Wellsville. Game time is 7:30 p. m. A preliminary game pits Beaver Local's fifth grade against Negley's fifth grade at 6:30. It will be the first game for the fifth graders.

Beaver Local Wrestlers To Begin Season

Beaver Local High School, steadily increasing the tempo of its varsity sports program, will have a wrestling team with a full schedule this winter.

Twelve other matches have been scheduled, including two with East Liverpool, and single dates with Linsly Military Institute of Wheeling and Brilliant.

Last year, only two wrestling matches were staged, both at the reserve level.

O'Rourke, a former Wellsville athlete, says this year's squad will have to overcome inexperience, but points out several members gained valuable seasoning in last year's limited wrestling program.

The Beavers seem strongest in 127-pound class because of Carl Hoppel, a freshman, O'Rourke said Carl is a brother of Darrell and Dave Hoppel who starred for Coach Lou Venditti on the Potter squads of the last several years.

Beaver Local will participate in a district tournament at Kent State University Feb. 13 and 14 after meeting Steubenville Big Red Feb. 11. A place for the Big Red match has not been set as yet.

O'Rourke said none of the squad fits into the 175-class, but he is hoping that several boys not yet out for the team will fill the gap. Heavyweights include Arthur Matheny, a 200-pound sophomore, and Keith Clutter, a 270-pound sophomore.

Exhibition matches will be staged by the school's sixth, seventh and eighth grade teams before varsity matches. Home matches will begin at 7:30 p. m. and admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for pupils, O'Rourke said. The schedule follows:

LSU Captures Football Title

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Louisiana State, the nation's only major unbeaten-untied team, ran up an overwhelming plurality in the final Associated Press college football poll of 1958 to win its first national championship.

The Bayou Tigers, titans of the Southeastern Conference, collected 139 first-place votes from among the participating 212 sports writers and broadcasters.

Iowa finished second, followed by Army, Auburn, Oklahoma and the Air Force Academy.

LSU rolled over 10 opponents, opening with a 26-6 victory over Rice Sept. 20 and closing with a 62-0 annihilation of Tulane Nov. 22. The Tigers had only two close calls — beating Florida 10-7 and Mississippi State 7-6. They scored 275 points to their opponents' 53.

In the national balloting, LSU collected 1,904 points on the usual basis of 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Iowa had 1,459, Army 1,429, Auburn 1,396, Oklahoma 1,200 and the Air Force Academy 800.

Iowa, which will play California in the Rose Bowl, replaced Auburn, which had held second in last week's poll. Auburn squeezed past Alabama 14-8 in its season finale last Saturday.

Army moved up a couple of notches on the strength of its 22-6 victory over Navy. The Cadets' record was marred only by a tie with Pittsburgh. Oklahoma dropped two rungs. The Air Force climbed up from eighth after downing Colorado 20-14.

The first 10 was rounded out by Wisconsin, Ohio State, Syracuse and Texas Christian in that order. TCU, upset by Southern Methodist, slipped from seventh place.

The top 10 teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (139) ... 1,904
2. Iowa (17) ... 1,459
3. Army (13) ... 1,429
4. Auburn (9) ... 1,396
5. Oklahoma (10) ... 1,200
6. Air Force (2) ... 800
7. Wisconsin (13) ... 797
8. Ohio State (3) ... 571
9. Syracuse (1) ... 340
10. Texas Christian ... 311

Second 10: Mississippi (2) 303; Clemson (1) 246, Purdue 196, Florida 134, South Carolina 101, California 78, Notre Dame (1) 61, Southern Methodist 52, Oklahoma State 49, Rutgers (1) 46.

Syracuse and Colgate began their football rivalry in 1891.

Blue And White Club To Meet Tonight At 8

Plans for East Liverpool's football banquet Dec. 9 will be discussed when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meets tonight at 8 in the YMCA. Ed Hester is chairman of the affair. Hap Tullis will preside tonight.

Cecconi To Be Speaker At Midland Grid Event

Louis "Bimbo" Cecconi, University of Pittsburgh freshman football coach, will be guest speaker when Lincoln High School at Midland holds its annual football banquet Thursday night at 6:30 in the St. Anthony Club.

Cecconi, who went to Pitt after graduating from Donora High School, will be accompanied by Ivan Toncic, Henry Suffoletta and John Flara, former Midland products who starred for the Panthers this season.

Cecconi played four years at Pitt at both quarterback and left halfback, under coaches Wes Fesler and Mike Milligan. He shares a record at Pitt for having intercepted three passes in one game against Penn State in 1949, and threw a pass to Nick DeRose in 1948 against Marquette in a play that covered 82 yards.

Although weighing only 160, Cecconi finished with 2,239 yards in total offense during his career with the Panthers, while tossing 13 touchdown passes. He scored 10 touchdowns in his four years at Pitt, from 1946 to 1949.

Other guests will include school officials and the staff of John Petchel, head football coach. Petchel will introduce senior gridders. Bill Moll will be toastmaster. The banquet is being arranged by the Rotary Club.

Wanzer Out, Marshall In As Royals' Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Wanzer, got his walking papers Monday as coach of the lackluster pro basketball Cincinnati Royals. He said, "I expected it.

"We were losing and there was nothing else that could be done. When it comes down to the final wire, you can't fire the ball players, so only one guy is expendable."

Outfielder, Shortstop Picked By Cleveland

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 6-foot-5 outfielder, Dale Bennetch, who hit 22 homers and batted .232 for Williamsport in the Class A Eastern League last season, was the Cleveland Indians' first choice in Monday's drafting of minor league players by major league clubs.

The Tribe's second pick was Ray Webster, a shortstop recommended by Indians' manager Joe Gordon and a .244 hitter for Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League last summer.

Bennetch, a left-handed batter, knocked in 102 runs for Williamsport, but also set a league strikeout record of 112 in 124 games.

Gordon said he saw Webster "quite a bit early last season and I like him a lot. I like his bat mainly. In the field I'd say he is about on a par with Billy Moran, but he will outhit Moran."

Bobby Kirk, new coach of the Hockey League, coached the Flin Buffalo Bisons in the American Flon Bombers of the Saskatchewan Junior League a few years ago when they went 33 games without losing.

Trades Loom For Redlegs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs appear to be in the midst of a series of trade negotiations involving Pittsburgh, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

The St. Louis Cardinals also were in there pitching, hoping to improve their weak attack.

It was reliably reported that the Pirates had offered Frank Thomas, their power hitting infielder - outfielder, and catcher Hank Foiles for left-handed pitcher Joe Nuxhall, catcher Ed Bailey and third baseman Don Hoak.

One version had it that the Redlegs also were interested in adding shortstop Roy McMillan to the package if they could snatch Dick Groat, the talented shortstop, from the Pirates.

Philadelphia was one of the clubs interested in Temple. With Solly Hemus gone to manage St. Louis, the Phils are hurting around second. They have offered pitching to land Temple.

The Giants have made strong overtures to the Cardinals for Don Blasingame. They are willing to give up shortstop Daryl Spencer and one of their three young outfielders — Bill White, Willie Kirkland, or Leon Wagner.

The Giants have surplus talent because of the return from service of White and Jackie Brandt. Thus, they have made a proposition to the Phils for two of their strong-armed pitchers, right - hander Jack Sanford and Jack Meyer. Manager Billy Rigney declined to say who he was offering, but acknowledged interest in both men.

The American League market was stalled.

Boston had hoped to make a deal with Washington, but it fell through at the last minute.

Army May Accept Bowl Bids–When 'Time Is Ripe'

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the other service academies have established a precedent by accepting invitations to play in football bowl games, Army may be next — when the time is ripe.

The Associated Press has learned from an informed source that influential elements in the Army would like to see the military academy reverse its stand against post-season games.

Army, sought by bowl committees on various occasions, has discouraged such advances in the past. Before the Cadets completed their unbeaten 1958 season, West Point officials made it clear they would not accept an invitation this year.

Navy played bowl games after its 1954 and 1957 seasons. The Air Force Academy, tied but undefeated this year, accepted an invitation to play Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

Big League Players Seek Increase In Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major league baseball players took the initiative today in an all-out drive for increased salaries. They asked a share of the club owners' total receipts.

The players' league representatives, Robin Roberts of Philadelphia and Eddie Yost of Washington, arranged to confer with the owners. They planned to report back to 16 team representatives later.

At a meeting Monday, the players' representatives voted unanimously to ask for 25 per cent of the 16 clubs' over-all annual income. This went far beyond their original demands for a cut of the regular season radio and television money.

She Has Perfect Mark As Backseat Driver

LONDON (AP) — For 30 years Mrs. Fanny Martin had a spotless backseat driving record. Until Monday.

Then husband Maurice, 55, a grocer, was fined a pound—$2.80—for ignoring a policeman's signal to stop.

"It was all Fanny's fault," he told the judge.

"As soon as we start to move, she's off. 'Watch out. . . Be careful. . . Mind that cyclist. . . Slow down. . .'"

It was the nagging, he said, that caused him to miss the signal.

Panama Would Extend Territorial Waters

PANAMA (AP)—A bill to extend Panama's territorial waters to 12 miles offshore has been introduced in the National Assembly with wide support.

The measure also would extend Panamanian sovereignty to the air space over nine-mile strips of Caribbean and Pacific water.

Extension of Panamanian sovereignty would create corridors hemming in access to the canal, although the bill guarantees the right of innocent passage to foreign ships using the canal.

Trades Loom For Redlegs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs appear to be in the midst of a series of trade negotiations involving Pittsburgh, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

The St. Louis Cardinals also were in there pitching, hoping to improve their weak attack.

It was reliably reported that the Pirates had offered Frank Thomas, their power hitting infielder - outfielder, and catcher Hank Foiles for left-handed pitcher Joe Nuxhall, catcher Ed Bailey and third baseman Don Hoak.

One version had it that the Redlegs also were interested in adding shortstop Roy McMillan to the package if they could snatch Dick Groat, the talented shortstop, from the Pirates.

Philadelphia was one of the clubs interested in Temple. With Solly Hemus gone to manage St. Louis, the Phils are hurting around second. They have offered pitching to land Temple.

The Giants have made strong overtures to the Cardinals for Don Blasingame. They are willing to give up shortstop Daryl Spencer and one of their three young outfielders — Bill White, Willie Kirkland, or Leon Wagner.

The Giants have surplus talent because of the return from service of White and Jackie Brandt. Thus, they have made a proposition to the Phils for two of their strong-armed pitchers, right - hander Jack Sanford and Jack Meyer. Manager Billy Rigney declined to say who he was offering, but acknowledged interest in both men.

The American League market was stalled.

Boston had hoped to make a deal with Washington, but it fell through at the last minute.

Army May Accept Bowl Bids–When 'Time Is Ripe'

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the other service academies have established a precedent by accepting invitations to play in football bowl games, Army may be next — when the time is ripe.

The Associated Press has learned from an informed source that influential elements in the Army would like to see the military academy reverse its stand against post-season games.

Army, sought by bowl committees on various occasions, has discouraged such advances in the past. Before the Cadets completed their unbeaten 1958 season, West Point officials made it clear they would not accept an invitation this year.

Navy played bowl games after its 1954 and 1957 seasons. The Air Force Academy, tied but undefeated this year, accepted an invitation to play Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

Big League Players Seek Increase In Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major league baseball players took the initiative today in an all-out drive for increased salaries. They asked a share of the club owners' total receipts.

The players' league representatives, Robin Roberts of Philadelphia and Eddie Yost of Washington, arranged to confer with the owners. They planned to report back to 16 team representatives later.

At a meeting Monday, the players' representatives voted unanimously to ask for 25 per cent of the 16 clubs' over-all annual income. This went far beyond their original demands for a cut of the regular season radio and television money.

She Has Perfect Mark As Backseat Driver

LONDON (AP) — For 30 years Mrs. Fanny Martin had a spotless backseat driving record. Until Monday.

Then husband Maurice, 55, a grocer, was fined a pound—$2.80—for ignoring a policeman's signal to stop.

IN loving memory of our dear husband and father, ABE LONG who passed away five years ago Dec. 2, 1953. No one knows how much we miss you, It is sweet to breathe your name. In life we loved you dearly. In death we do the same. In our hearts your memory lingers. Sweetly, tender, fond, and true, You are gone but not forgotten, Your acts of kindness shall never fade. Loving thoughts shall ever linger, Around the grave where you are laid.—Sadly missed by wife Clara and family.

Interchange Design Waited For Freeway

14 Attend Meeting, Review Progress Of Plans For Highway

A recommendation from the city on the design of a W. 8th St. interchange will be the next major step in preparing for construction of the first segment of the city's freeway scheduled to get under way next year.

The recommendation was the outgrowth of another in a series of "progress reports" on the freeway held Monday afternoon in City Council's caucus room at which 14 city and state officials reviewed various plans for the interchange in a 2½-hour conference.

The interchange is the major problem in the initial construction since provision must be made for access and egress from the freeway along with handling traffic from Route 7 and the Lisbon St. hill.

Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, which holds a contract to prepare the final plans for the four - lane roadway, will submit two plans to the city officials, who will make a recommendation.

The plans and the city's recommendation then will be turned over to the State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia which also will make a recommendation.

It then will be forwarded to the department's central office in Columbus where officials will present it to the Bureau of Public Roads for approval.

Both state and federal approval of the plans are required since 90 per cent of the cost will be financed by state and federal funds.

One of the plans the Baker firm will present will be a modification of a design suggested by the city and the other will be one proposed by the highway department's central office.

In addition to the advantages and disadvantages of each, the summaries will include estimates of the cost of construction and the cost of right-of-way.

Attending yesterday's session were Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti, Council President B. E. Warner, Councilmen George Willshaw and Samuel Webber, City Engineer George Bloomgren, City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, Joseph Mundo and Sam Kennedy of the Baker firm, Levi Kimball and Robert Jenkins from the Division 11 office, Warren Cremain, urban projects engineer of the highway department's Columbus office, and his aide, Gail Cross, and Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's roads and streets committee.

The first phase of the freeway will run from the north corporate limits, generally following Carpenters Run into the West End, cross over the four - lane stretch of W. 8th St. via an overpass, loop around City Hospital and under the Newell bridge, ending at W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

It eventually will be extended to the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line, allowing traffic to bypass the downtown business district. The first phase has been estimated to cost $2.5 million and the entire project will cost approximately $10 million.

Seamen Provide Much Of 'Starch' In Ship Boycott

By The Associated Press

American maritime workers are providing much of the starch in a four-day worldwide boycott of ships flying "flags of convenience."

Overseas, reports of success were scattered. In the United States, however, at least 70 ships were tied up.

The demonstration, which entered its second day today, is aimed at ship owners operating under the flags of Panama, Honduras, Costa Rica and Liberia. By registering under these flags the owners benefit from tax benefits and lower labor costs, transport workers contend.

Leading the worldwide action is the International Transport Workers Federation, which claims a membership of seven million. In the United States, 18 unions, led by the National Maritime Union and the Seafarers International Union, have formed a united front.

Outside Fire Run Rates To Be Discussed

Complaints Aired At Meeting Of Council At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Members of two Council committees are slated to confer with Unity Township trustees soon to work out an agreement concerning fire protection rates as a result of a discussion at Council's meeting Monday night.

Mayor Paul Merwin and some councilmen reported they had received complaints about the recent increase for out - of - town fire calls from $200 to $300 a run.

The rate was increased at the direction of Fire Chief Glenn Libert, who said it was necessary to provide adequate coverage of costs of the calls.

There has been no agreement between the township and the city to provide for payments for the calls. However, last night, City Solicitor Jack Cohen said he feels any revision of the rates should be made by Council.

Kenneth C. Herriott of Neely Manor, president of the Herriott Trucking Co., urged Council to consider a low standby charge, with actual labor and equipment costs added. This would eliminate expensive charges for mere grass fires or minor fires he said, but would allow adequate compensation for larger fires.

Mayor Merwin said he has received complaints from insurance firms concerning the rate hike. The cost of the fire call is paid by insurance for residents who have such policies, and the rates are consequently increased to match the revision.

George Bloomgren, city engineer, reported he has about four more days of study of city drainage and sewer lines before completing a survey of the system.

The finance committee reported it will submit a partial appropriation ordinance for 1959 at the next meeting. A resolution of congratulation was approved for the East Palestine High School undefeated football team.

Chavez Urges McElroy Fight For Fund Hike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy was invited by Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) today to put up a fight for a substantial increase in defense funds in the new budget.

Basic decisions on the size of the administration's military budget may be made at meetings of the National Security Council Wednesday and Thursday.

Chavez, who heads the Senate's Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said in an interview he understands McElroy wants more money for the military than President Eisenhower's fiscal advisers are willing to see spent.

"I'm on McElroy's side," Chavez said. "If he will fight for the funds he needs, he will find the majority of Congress behind him. We're going to vote every penny needed for national security."

In the past, Chavez's subcommittee generally has voted to increase defense spending above the total previously allowed by the House, which acts first on all money bills. In most cases the subcommittee's decisions have been upheld by the full Appropriations Committee, which will be controlled by a 2-1 margin by the Democrats in the new Congress.

McElroy has hinted that next year's military budget request may be a billion dollars higher than the current $40,800,000,000 level of defense outlays.

Eisenhower has been attempting to hold the total of defense and all other spending down to keep the new budget under an 80-billion dollar ceiling.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw will attend the prosecutors session Thursday through Saturday.

LISBON — Whitney Ingraham, Columbiana County Farm Bureau manager, and Lloyd Glazer, an employe, both of Lisbon, will be in Columbus today and Wednesday, attending the seed and plant food sales meeting.
